Farm Situation Unsatisfactory, Benson Asserts

Agriculture Secretary Promises Battle for Price Improvements

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today said the Eisenhower administration is "not content" with the current level of farm prices and farmer income.

And he said, the federal government is "determined to fight for the interest of farmers."

The secretary, in an address prepared for the Bloomington Daily Pantagraph's Farm Day program, set forth:

"Very frankly, this administration is not content with the general level of farm prices today or with the present income of our farm people."

"We will seek earnestly, energetically and constantly to do everything that is fair, right and economically sound to improve this situation."

Benson, in his Corn Belt speech, took note of the decline in agricultural prices since the end of the Korean War. But, he said, farm income now has a bulwark in a national economy that is "humming along at a record rate."

American people, he added, are buying more and better foods each year, and the annual growth in population is adding almost three million new customers.

Pointing to expectations of a heavy harvest and of increased marketing of livestock this year, Benson said:

"By selling more, even at somewhat lower prices, most farmers in 1955 will probably maintain gross income near the level of last year. At the same time, production expenses are running slightly below a year ago."

Government To Control Newsprint in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla's government has announced it is taking over control of the price and distribution of newsprint.

A smoldering government feud with the press was climaxed two weeks ago when authorities slapped censorship on all newspapers in the country for criticizing handling of guerrillas in Tolima state.

To Start Soon

Housing Project Slated Near Harding School Site

Initial steps toward construction of a new housing project in Marion got under way Tuesday at a site west of Seminole Ave., opposite the Harding High School athletic field.

Leslie E. Adams, LaRue home-builder, announced Tuesday that he had acquired 26 of the 37 vacant lots located between Powhattan and E. Walnut Sts.

FOUR OF the remaining lots in the development are owned by Marion E. Hinklin, Marion County treasurer, who plans to erect a soft ice cream store and parking area on them. Hinklin said the ice cream store will be located on the corner of Seminole Ave. and the extension of E. Washington St.

The seven remaining lots are owned by individuals. Adams said that he has not yet RECOGNITION AS the outstanding 4-H boy and girl in Marion County was accorded these two young people at the County Fair Wednesday night. They each received $50 checks from The Marion Star for their accomplishments.

LEFT: Rosemary Mautz of near Marion was picked as the outstanding girl. She is now a senior at Ohio State University. Here she prepares a batch of cookies for the oven, a skill she learned in her 4-H work.

RIGHT: Robert Dickerson of near Caledonia drives a tractor from a farm field where he is working this summer. Dickerson, a June graduate of Caledonia School, will begin college work this fall. He plans to become a vocational agriculture teacher after completing his college education.

Both Are Leaders

Miss Mautz, Dickerson Win Star's $50 Awards

By JOHN ROBSON

A future vocational agriculture teacher and a prospective home economics teacher Wednesday night were honored by The Marion Star as the outstanding 4-H Club members in Marion County.

The two were Robert Dickerson Jr. of near Caledonia and Rosemary Mautz of near Marion. They were presented awards of $50 each at the annual Junior Fair awards presentation show at the Coliseum Wednesday night.

PRESENTING the awards was Editor John A. Maxwell Jr. of The Star, who congratulated the two youths for their outstanding efforts in 4-H work.

Dickerson was graduated in June from Caledonia High School. He plans to start classes next month at Ohio State University, where he will take vocational agriculture education. He hopes to teach and do some farming after completion of his education.

Miss Mautz will be a senior at Ohio State this fall. She is taking courses in home economics education. She was graduated from Pleasant School in 1952.

Dickerson is now in his eighth year of 4-H work. A member of the Whetstone Lads Club, he has been in junior leadership work for two years.

During his time in the club, the 17-year-old youth has completed two sow and litter projects, six poultry projects, a rope project, a dairy heifer project and two electricity projects.

HE IS NOW assistant adviser for the Whetstone Lads Club and is an assistant leader of the Marion County "Hot Wires," the county-wide electrical club.

Miss Mautz has been in 4-H work for 12 years. During that time she has completed 33 projects, including sewing, dress making, two market pig projects, a steer project, gardening, baking, freezing, making home furnishings and entertainment.

She has held all offices in the club at one time or another and has been a junior leader for four years. As such she helped supervise and assist the club's achievement days, programs, fair booths, and other activities.

As an adviser for the club she supervised projects in which the club members provided toys and games to the Children's Home, collected and mended clothes for the Salvation Army and sponsored a foreign exchange student for a trip to America.

WHEN ROSEMARY first took over as an adviser to the group, the members were somewhat lax in their attention to their club work. Under her direction, the club has produced a county health winner, two representatives to the Ohio Club Congress, one delegate to the Junior Leadership Camp and one to the Ohio Club Congress. She has been in junior leadership work for two years.

During his time in the club, the 17-year-old youth has completed two sow and litter projects, six poultry projects, a rope project, a dairy heifer project and two electricity projects.

PLANS ARE TO proceed immediately with the project, and necessary petitions are to be presented to the city as quickly as possible asking for the opening and improvement of both Minnehaha and E. Washington Sts from their present terminal points to Seminole Ave. Adams expressed the hope that both streets will be opened yet this fall so that actual building activity on the houses may be started as soon as possible.

While he has no definite plans for the number or type of houses to build in the project, Adams said

Watch Posted As Hurricane 'Edith' Grows

Season's Fifth Giant Storm Gathers Fury Over Atlantic Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The year's fifth hurricane, Edith, spun ominously over the open Atlantic today and one of the top storm warning experts predicted its winds would have a force of 125 miles an hour or better by Saturday.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Weather Bureau's Hurricane center here, said Edith's winds at present were about 80 miles an hour. She was centered at 5 a.m. near latitude 22.7 north, longitude 58.6 west, or 580 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

That location placed its center about 1,500 miles southeast of Miami and the same distance south-southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C. "Edith is a smaller, more concentrated storm than either Connie or Diane," said Dunn.

"Conditions are such that Edith probably will move in a westerly direction—either northwest or west-northwest—for the next two days, at least. That's the same old route that Connie and Diane followed. Edith will require a lot of close watching."

The storm's forward movement was toward the west-northwest at about 13 miles an hour. Gales extended outward 150 miles to the north and east and 50 miles to the south and west of the center. Edith, spotted only Wednesday by an Air Force plane from Bermuda, already had winds of about 80 miles an hour over a small area

Could Cost $100 Million

Government, Red Cross Accelerate Flood Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government threw money and manpower into the flood-stricken Northeast today in a massive rehabilitation effort which could cost more than $100 million dollars.

With advance approval of congressional leaders, President Eisenhower ordered into effect Wednesday an over-all plan for using funds and resources already available to numerous government agencies. They will look to Congress for reimbursement next year.

No Special Session

"This means a special session of Congress will not be necessary," reported James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, as he outlined the steps already taken or planned.

The Red Cross, meantime, boosted its disaster appeal goal from five million to eight million dollars

Government Taking Rap For Faulty Cutter Serum, Says Safety Checks Weak

Report Finds Berkeley Lab Not Negligent

Public Health Service Issues Statement After 4-Month Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today blamed the Cutter polio vaccine incident on "fundamental weaknesses" in its own now-discarded safety testing procedures.

It said new standards provide "adequate safeguards against infective amounts of live virus again being injected into healthy children."

Exact Reason Not Found

The Public Health Service report on a four-month investigation said some lots of Cutter vaccine contained live virus and caused polio but that scientists were unable to determine the exact reasons why the live virus was present.

It in effect cleared the Berkeley, Calif., concern of negligence with these words:

"The equipment, the physical arrangements and the routine handling procedures of the Cutter Laboratories were checked in detail to determine if deficiencies in them might have led to contamination. Nothing was found to indicate that the infective amounts of live virus in Cutter vaccine were attributable to contamination."

Cutter Praised Report

Cutter Laboratories called the Health Service statement a "courteous report affirming our faith that no negligence or incompetence would be found."

Arthur Beekley, vice president of Cutter, said in response to a question that his company intends to continue manufacturing Salk vaccine. He said it has not as yet applied for release of any of the vaccine it now has on hand.

Use of the Cutter vaccine was suspended April 27 when a number of children who had been inoculated with its product developed polio.

Later, use of vaccine made by other manufacturers was held up pending new tests.

With aid of a group of specialists in virus medicine, the health service adopted new production and testing standards before giving a go ahead for resumption of vaccinations.

Summary of Conclusions

Today's report, giving the results of that study, had this to say in the concluding section of "comment and summary":

"1. A study of poliomyelitis in children subsequent to the administration of vaccine produced and distributed by the Cutter Laboratories has been made. It is concluded from the study that the development of the disease in some of these patients was the result of the presence, in infective amounts of Cutter vaccine. Laboratory studies support this conclusion."

"2. The exact reasons for the presence of infective amounts of live virus in some lots of Cutter vaccine could not be found. The

Ike Resuming Vacation After Tour of Floods

President Schedules Studies on Problems Of Western Sections

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a quick trip East, turns at the Summer White House today to problems of the West.

He arranged to discuss reclamation projects with Secretary of the Interior McKay, Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) and Reclamation Commissioner Wilbur Dextheimer.

Busy 48 Hours

The President flew back to Denver Wednesday night after being away 48 hours during which he:

1. Made a flight over part of the flood-ravaged Northeastern states and completed arrangements for federal aid which could run well over 100 million dollars.

2. Served notice on Russia, in a speech from historic Independence Hall at Philadelphia, that America never will accept Soviet "violations of the rights of men and of nations" as the price of peace. That address was at the American Bar Assn. convention.

He spoke out firmly against any appeasement on the issues of what he called the "wrongs" of a divided Germany, the domination of captive satellite countries, and "subversion organized on a worldwide scale."

Mamie Goes Along

On his return to Denver, the President was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, who remained at the family's country home at Gettysburg, Pa., during the first 10 days of the chief executive's visit here.

When she stepped from the plane Wednesday night, she was greeted warmly by her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, at whose home the Eisenhowers are staying here.

Attendance Climbs 4,000 Above Last Year's Figures

A highly successful session of the Marion County Fair comes to an end today with attendance already well above the total mark set last year.

Fair officials today reported that Wednesday's paid attendance was about 4,000, bringing the total for the first five days to 16,300. Last year the total paid attendance for all six days of the fair was only 12,000.

IN ADDITION to the paid crowd Wednesday, there were also about 2,000 children admitted free as Junior Fair Day was observed. Children under 16 were let into the grounds with no admission charge, and many of the rides featured reduced prices for the youngsters.

Over 1,000 cars were parked on the grounds during the session Wednesday, the second day in a row the 1,000 car mark had been passed.

Today's activities included judging of floats entered by the various youth farm groups in the county, the parade of senior livestock winners and floats, a Western Horse Show at 2 p.m. and two performances of the WLW Midwestern Hayride Show in front of

Detroit 'Shovel' Burglar Caught In Police Trap

Plumbing Salesman's Routine Never Altered For Five-Year Period

DETROIT (AP)—After a five-year hunt, police believe they have caught Detroit's "Shovel Burglar."

Officers say he is William E. Schlitz, 44, a fast-talking plumbing salesman who has served four terms in Southern Michigan Prison.

They said he supplemented his $100 weekly income as a salesman by looting homes of between $10,000 and $15,000 a year.

For five years the Shovel Burglar's routine never varied.

He operated only on Friday nights between sunset and 9 p.m., taking a "vacation" between May and September and during the deer hunting season.

He stole only from fashionable neighborhoods in Detroit's Northwest Side.

Each Friday, after spotting a darkened house, he would steal a shovel from the nearest open garage, pry open a window, crawl inside the home and carry off cash, jewelry and anything else of value that caught his eye.

General Telephone, Gary Company Study Merger

A merger between General Telephone Corp. and the Theodore Gary and Co. was agreed upon in New York Thursday by the directors of both companies.

Making the announcement of the merger were Donald C. Power, president of General, and Frank S. Spring, chairman of Gary, in New York City, main headquarters of General.

General Telephone operates companies in 21 states including Ohio. The main offices for General Telephone Co. of Ohio are located on S. Main St. in Marion.

THE GARY CO. has operations in 17 states across the nation, including Ohio. The Gary firm's operations in this state are scattered in all sectors of the state, with most of the service concentrated in the southern sector. Its main headquarters is in Chicago. The merger must be approved by the Securities and Exchange Commission and then by the stockholders of both firms. Stockholders' meetings have been set for Sept. 29 by both companies. The General Telephone meeting will be in New York, while Gary's meeting will be in Kansas City.

UNDER THE agreement, General would absorb the Gary Co. by an exchange of stock. General would give 1 1/2 shares of its common stock for each share of Gary.

If the merger is consummated, the new system would serve about 2,500,000 telephones in 30 different states. Both companies have service in eight states, Texas, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michi-

Ohioans Named In Federal Tax Court Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has billed John J. Malik of (4815 Guernsey St.) Bellaire, Ohio, for $51,802.41 in back income taxes.

Papers filed with U.S. tax court says the taxes are due chiefly on money received in connection with a coal land transaction in West Virginia with the Union Carbide & Carbon Co.

Malik, in his answering petition, states the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) incorrectly figured his taxes and says he owes nothing. The returns, for 1951-53, were made out jointly by Malik and his wife, Alice.

In connection with the same transaction, IRS says Frank A. Balcar and his wife, Lenor, of near Bellaire, owe about $19,897.02 in tax deficiencies and penalties. Balcar, the petitions state, was a silent partner in the land deal.

The Balcars, too, say IRS is mistaken and challenge all but $1,117.40 of the claimed deficiency.

In other recent petitions filed in tax court:

Leland Rice and his wife, Eunice, of (1571 Charles St.), Springfield, Ohio, appealed a $36,918.23 back tax and fraud penalty claim. IRS said the Rices owe it on their 1948 and 1949 earnings, chiefly from a partnership of Rice and Earl Artis. The petition said the Rices owe nothing.

Robert E. S. Young and his wife, Ruth, of (9 Buttes Ave.), Columbus, Ohio, deny they owe a $35,108.12 income tax deficiency for 1952. They say IRS erred in assigning to them income earned by a firm called Milner, Inc.

Milner, Inc., was identified as a medical service concern set up by Young to serve North American Aviation, Inc., in Columbus.

Frank Henderson Memorial Service Scheduled by ONG

MARYSVILLE—Memorial services will be held Monday here for Frank D. Henderson, former state adjutant general and onetime warden at the Ohio State Penitentiary, the Ohio National Guard announced today.

Military services will be conducted by the Rainbow Division with the Ralph Berger Chapter of Marysville in charge. The military services at 10 a.m. Monday will be followed by civilian services. The services will be conducted at the Henderson vault in Oakdale Cemetery here.

Henderson, who died May 10 in Delamonte Springs, Fla., where he and his wife, Josephine, had lived since 1949, was active in National Guard activities all his life. He was commissioned commanding lieutenant of Company E of the National Guard here in 1905. He was commander of the provisional battalion of the 166th Infantry Regiment and served with the Rainbow Division in World War I. He at one time was director of the Ohio Voluntary Relief Commission.

Surviving in addition to his wife, Josephine, is a son, Major David Henderson, stationed in Washington, D. C., with the Air Force.

All patriotic organizations are invited to participate in the memorial program.

Death Claims Ohio Mennonite Bishop

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Bishop Isaac Stoltzfus Mast, 81, bishop of the Ohio Mennonite Conference from 1906 until 1942, died yesterday at his home in Embreeville.

Bishop Mast was ordained a Mennonite minister at Belleville, Pa., in 1893 and established a church in Ohio the same year. In 1908 he was ordained a bishop at Minot, Ohio.

He returned to Pennsylvania in 1942 to establish a Mennonite mission church at Jonestown and in 1943 one at Greenwood, Del. He retired in 1946.

Methods Changing For Home Lighting

CHICAGO (UP)—Off-center lighting is being installed in an increasing number of new homes, the American Home Lighting Institute reports.

The light fixture, which traditionally was put squarely in the middle of the ceiling, now is to be found at the corners and edges of the ceiling, on walls, and alcove windows. Decorators say this enlarges the room, and brings interiors to life.

One use of off-center lighting is in the dining area of homes with no separate dining rooms. The table usually is placed against a wall in these areas. Using the off-center idea, the light fixture is installed directly over the table to give added accent to glassware and silver. Some fixtures can be lowered for card-playing or study, then raised when more light is needed, or swiveled about as need requires. These provide illumination without taking up floor or table space.

The institute recommended that fixtures be placed to balance the light from out-of-doors. The wall opposite a window would require lighting to provide such a balance during the day, for instance, while the window wall itself should be lighted by other fixtures at night.

HOME AT LAST. Airman Daniel Schmidt and his mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, pose in smiling embrace at Portland, Ore., after a night of seclusion. He returned the previous night to the mother who had waited out his two and one-half years in a Chinese Red prison after he had been shot down in Korean War. Schmidt had no comment on his marital problems. He filed divorce suit in California against his wife, Una, who said she remarried, thinking him dead.

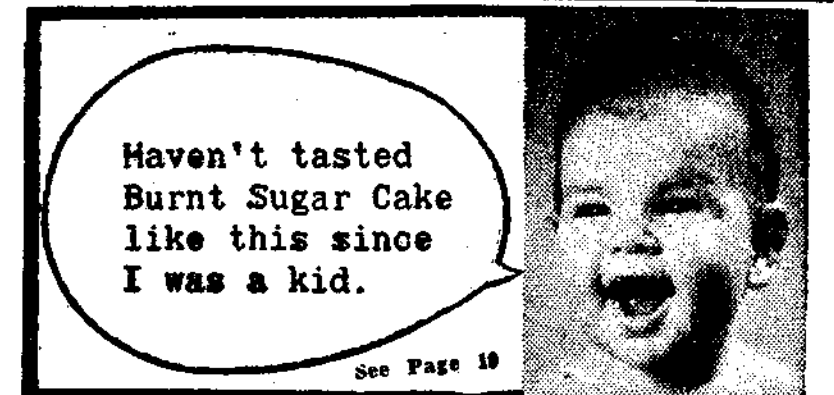

Actor Bela Lugosi Weds His No. 1 Fan

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bela Lugosi, the horror movie menace, and his No. 1 fan, a woman, who wrote him encouraging letters during his hospital stay for drug addiction treatment, were married Wednesday night.

The 73-year-old actor and Hope Lininger, 40, a fan of Lugosi's since her girlhood in Johnstown, Pa., were wed in a ceremony performed by Manley P. Hall at his Hollywood Home.

The marriage was the first for the blonde film studio employee. It was the fifth for Lugosi, freed Aug. 4 from a state hospital where he had admitted himself three months earlier for treatment.

He said that his bride wrote him daily letters while he was in the hospital. She didn't sign her name, but Lugosi learned her phone number from her address and later met and wooed her.

Marion Couple Seeks $35,000 In Court Suits

Two damage suits totaling $35,000 were filed Wednesday in Municipal Court against Harold McCurdy of 433 Brightwood Dr. and Richard E. Bunford of near Prospect, doing business as Safety Cab Co., at 319 W. Center St.

Filing the suits were Catherine V. McCrery of 633 Blaine Ave., and her husband, Arthur E. McCrery. Mrs. McCrery says she was injured while a passenger in a taxicab operated by the company.

In her petition, she states that she was a passenger in a taxicab driven by Marion Francis Davis on Aug. 31, 1953, when it was involved in a collision at the intersection of N. Greenwood and E. George Sts. Driver of the other car was Charles Frederick Ervin, the petition states.

Mrs. McCrery sustained injuries to her shoulder and neck and suffers limited use of her arm, she claims. For these damages she asks $25,000.

Her husband asks $10,000 damages for medical expenses he has incurred in her behalf and for loss of domestic services. The law firm of Martin and Hall is representing Mr. and Mrs. McCrery.

Polio

Study produced nothing which pointed to contamination as a source of the live virus but it did produce data suggesting the combination of inadequacy of virus inactivation and failure of the safety test as responsible for live virus remaining undetected in the finished vaccine.

"3. Study of the Cutter data against the background of general experience of the industry during the same time period strengthens the probability that the cause of the trouble was inadequate inactivation coupled with failure of the safety tests to demonstrate the presence of virus."

The Health Service added that revised requirements for both production and testing now provide "adequate safeguards."

Use of vaccine produced by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., was halted on April 27 after development of polio in some children inoculated with it raised questions as to its safety.

Later, the entire national inoculation program was stopped temporarily while new production standards were developed.

401,000 Inoculated

The Health Service estimated 401,000 children were vaccinated with the Cutter product before Cutter vaccine was withheld from further use.

It said 79 of these persons developed polio within 90 days. An additional 90 cases of polio resulted within 49 days from household contacts of persons who received Cutter vaccine.

The Health Service said its investigation produced no evidence pointing to contamination during the manufacturing process as a source of the live virus in the Cutter vaccine.

The six-page report said the investigation "did produce data suggesting the combination of inadequacy of virus inactivation and failure of the safety tests as responsible for live virus remaining undetected in the finished vaccine."

License Not Revoked

As to any future production by Cutter Laboratories, officials said the Cutter license never has been fully revoked. Its Salk vaccine simply was withheld from use.

Health officials said they would meet with Cutter spokesmen next month presumably to discuss any future production.

The report said that of the 79 polio cases among vaccinated persons, 73 occurred within 3 to 31 days after administration of the vaccine. This is the generally recognized period for incubation of polio.

15,000 Doctors, Dentists Out on 'Strike' in Austria

VIENNA, Austria (U-P) — Austria's 15,000 doctors and dentists began a two-day nationwide strike today.

The doctors refused treatment to all but emergency cases and 300 white clad physicians marched through Vienna's streets in a protest demonstration.

The strike was called by Austria's Medical Assn. in protest against a planned law which they claim will harm their private practices and threaten their independence.

The draft law provides national health insurance for the entire population, instead of only to persons employed.

Connie brought damaging winds and heavy rains earlier this month to the Carolinas, Virginia and Pennsylvania, blowing out in Canada.

Diane followed last week. It caused the heaviest floods on record in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and parts of New England, and left more than 175 dead and damage estimated at a billion dollars.

Weathermen had been watching an easterly wave well to the east of Puerto Rico for several days but it was not until the Air Force plane flew into the area Wednesday that forecasters knew another potential killer was on the way.

The 20-year-old county girl is also a member of the Future Homemakers of America and was secretary, vice president and president of the regional chapter, and the state candidate for national vice president.

She has received the state home-makers' degree. She attended the National 4-H Club Camp one year as one of four delegates from Ohio and returned to the camp for the 25th anniversary celebration this year.

She has been active in extracurricular activities at Ohio State and is active in church and other farm and civic organizations.

Miss Mautz served as a counselor at the Ohio Club Congress, the state conservation camp and the state junior leadership camp. She has also been awarded the State Junior Leadership Honor Award.

SHE HAS PAID her own way through college for the first three years with earnings from 4-H projects, such as prize steers and other premiums awarded at each fair.

Both Miss Mautz and Dickerson plan to use the awards made last night to help them in their advanced education.

The pair was chosen from 20 nominees from throughout the county. Making the selection was the county 4-H Advisory Council, consisting of four club advisers, four parents of club members and four club members.

The selections were made from nominations submitted by the various clubs in the county.

Traffic Cases

Two drivers were fined a total of $30 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday. Each was fined $15 and costs.

Paul Guilkey, 35, of East Lansing, Mich., was charged with a yellow line violation, and Richard L. Haines, 24, of 473 Park Blvd., appeared in Court on a speeding charge.

Merger

gan, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio.

In addition, General has operations in Montana, Washington, California, Idaho, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont and New Jersey.

Continental Telephone Co., a subsidiary of the Gary Co. which would be included in the merger, has service in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The merger would include operations in foreign lands as well as the United States. Total assets of General after the merger would exceed $700 million.

Among the properties acquired by General would be Automatic Electric Co., the country's largest manufacturer of telephone equipment with the exception of the Bell System's Western Electric Co.

Automatic Electric, a Gary subsidiary, has equipment plants at Brockville, Ontario; Antwerp, Belgium, and Milan, Italy, as well as in this country. The company is credited with pioneering the developing of dial telephones and automatic switching equipment.

General Telephone also has a manufacturing subsidiary, the Leich Electric Co.

THEODORE GARY AND CO. has controlling interest of two sub-holding companies, Continental, which concentrates on telephone service, and Associated Telephone and Telegraph Co., which owns Automatic Electric and scattered telephone properties. The Gary Co. controls 51 per cent of the stock in the Continental firm and 77 per cent of the Associated stock.

A 37.5 per cent interest is also held by Gary in British Columbia Telephone Co., serving more than 350,000 telephones in British Columbia. Gary has this interest through control of Anglo-Canadian Telephone Co.

Both General and Gary-controlled Continental conduct their operations through subsidiary firms on a territorial basis, such as General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

The Gary subsidiary in Ohio is the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., with headquarters in Portsmouth. It operates 40 exchanges in 21 counties. General of Ohio operates 135 exchanges in 62 counties. Both companies have operations in seven of the counties.

General of Ohio operates about 101,000 telephones while Ohio Consolidated has about 52,000 telephones in operation. If the merger is approved, General would have service in 76 of the 88 counties in the state.

Power, president of General, would continue as president of the larger corporation if the merger is approved. Spring would become a director in General. Theodore S. Gary, president of the Gary Co. would be made a vice president and director of General. A.E. Carlson, executive vice president of Gary, would become a General vice president.

BOTH POWER AND Spring joined in saying the merger would "result in a better integrated and more efficient telephone operating system," strengthened by the manufacturing activities.

In 1954, about 86 per cent of General's revenue came from telephone operations while 14 per cent came from equipment manufacture. Some 69 per cent of Gary's revenue was from manufacturing and only 31 per cent from telephone service.

At the present time, General serves 1,851,000 telephones and Gary operates about 585,000. The merger would result in the operation of about 2,436,000 phones across the country.

At present General Corp. is the largest independent telephone system in the United States. General Telephone Co. of Ohio is the largest independent system in the state.

Burglar

After looting several homes, he would stick the shovel in the ground outside the last house he visited as his personal "calling card."

Over the five years nearly 1,000 homes were looted in this manner. Police were baffled.

Then Detective Lt. Harold A. Brownfield took charge of the investigation in June 1954. He organized a dragnet of some 700 civil defense auxiliary police and scores of off-duty policemen.

One Friday night, all sat in darkened houses scattered through the district waiting for the Shovel Burglar to appear. But the burglar, apparently learning of the trap, stopped his operations for two weeks.

Brownfield carried on the search, talking to dozens of public meetings, urging citizens to be on the lookout.

The burglaries suddenly halted last April 9. That was the date Ignatius Keep, who had heard Brownfield speak, spotted Schlitz prying open a window with a shovel at a nearby house.

Keep and two neighbors, one of them with a shotgun, raced to the house. Schlitz, talking glibly, almost convinced them he had been looking for a dog, but when the three insisted he tell his story to police, he suddenly stuck his hand in a pocket and told them he had a gun and would shoot to kill.

Many Suffer

Homes Wrecked, Futures Dark for Flood Victims

By JAMES DEVLIN

NORTH GROSVENOR DALE, Conn. (U-P) — The gray-haired woman looked at her furniture, wet and ruined from the dank floodwaters, out where the front yard had been.

"It's terrible to lose your home," said Mrs. Henry Dery. "We saved for years to buy it."

She and her 62-year-old husband were sorting out the furniture—the debris—with an air of "Where do we begin?"

For Dery it was just about the last straw. His story symbolizes the sufferings of many who endured the floods precipitated last week by Hurricane Diane.

Plant Closes

For 46 years he worked at the local Cluett Peabody mill. Then, less than a year ago, the plant closed.

In the past 10 months," he said, "I've lost my job; I lost $1,000 I had invested in the plant; can't get the money until the plant is sold; and now, my home is gone."

Actually the house still stands. But the plaster of the living room has been washed out. The kitchen floor has buckled.

The furniture—the red plush sofa and easy chairs with embroidery work draped over their backs—is ruined.

The concrete walk leading from the front door is gone. The neat grass lawn is a mass of mud and asphalt tossed up from the street.

"This was a beautiful place," said Mrs. Dery.

It was. The little red-brick home she and her husband occupied for 20 years had a view of the nearby French River and a bridge that crossed it.

Dam Breaks

But last Friday night the North Grosvenor Dam half a mile upstream burst.

She and her husband escaped with their lives—and that was about all.

Now, over the door of their once cozy home hangs a neat sign. It says, "This building is declared unfit for occupancy by order of the health officer. It is not to be reoccupied without permission of the health officer."

The Derys were not trying to reoccupy it. They are living now with a daughter.

They were only trying to clean it up. Dery in slacks and tee shirt; his wife in wrinkled trousers and a sweater.

They were just one of 300 families forced to evacuate their homes in North Grosvenor Dale—a village near the Massachusetts border a few miles above the more spectacularly damaged Putnam.

"Putnam," said Dery. "All I hear is 'Putnam' and the damage there and the need for help."

Other Places Also Hurt

"I'm not complaining, understand. But what about North Grosvenor Dale and the other places you don't hear so much about?"

At 62, with your job gone, your savings run out, and your house a wreck, the outlook is rough.

Dery carried another chair to the lawn.

"I'm willing to do my part," he said. "But it would be nice if the state government, the federal government—somebody—would help."

That was one family. There are 300 in similar circumstances in this one village alone.

wait to be asked by the Red Cross but "should seize the opportunity to force upon them more than they can use."

Five more bodies of flood victims were recovered Wednesday in Connecticut, and large numbers of persons still were unaccounted for in Pennsylvania and Connecticut. That threatened to raise still higher the storm's death toll, which was revised downward slightly yesterday to a new figure of 176.

Not even a good guess was available of the total over-all material damage from the rains and floods which Hurricane Diane brought on last week.

Over-all supervision will be handled by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. Director Val Peterson said every government agency has been directed to find out what it can do. He said he could not estimate the cost.

Some congressional leaders indicated they thought the cost could be held to about $6 millions, but the White House indicated it might even go over 100 millions.

Housing

they likely will be in the $15,000 to $20,000 price range.

A BULLDOZER started work Wednesday afternoon on the job of clearing away scrub trees and leveling some of the lots.

Hinklin said that he had reached an agreement with Adams to use some of the vacant lots along Seminole Ave. this fall for parking for football fans' cars.

Some of the lots purchased Wednesday by Adams formerly were owned by William P. Moloney who previously objected to a city planning commission action granting Hinklin a permissive use permit to construct the soft ice cream stand on his lot at Seminole and E. Washington St.

Landy Case

Three principles are involved in the case of Eugene William Landy which cannot be ignored no matter how the Navy eventually decides the matter.

Principle No. 1. Eugene Landy went into the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, Long Island, in 1951. Surely, there was a screening of his record as there always is. We do not here have a Maj. Peress case in which the Army was totally negligent and then tried to cover up. By sometime in 1952, the Navy knew all about this boy and his mother. Nothing was said to the boy about his being unfit because he was born of the wrong mother. He was permitted to go on, to make a brilliant record, to win prizes, to come out second in his class.

Then the Navy, on graduation day, takes the brutal action of refusing him the reward for his work. This is inept, inefficient and from a moral standpoint, altogether improper handling of a human being.

THIS IS WRECKING the life of a citizen, not for his own conduct, but for his mother's.

Principle No. 2. Landy is being held responsible for the conduct of his mother. That is a Communist, not an American practice. The American philosophy of life is that each individual stands alone before God and the law, accountable for his own conduct, responsible only for himself.

The foundation of personal responsibility before God is to be found in a famous passage in Ezekiel:

"Yet say ye, Why? Doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him."

HEREIN LIES the moral basis for judgment in the Landy case in a country whose philosophy of life is presumably based on the natural law as revealed to man by God. Or does the Navy have nothing to do with God?

In China, even in imperial days, entire families were wiped out because of the turpitude of one member of it. In Soviet Russia, wives and children are held as hostages for the head of the family and are enslaved or killed.

We have criticized the Communists for such conduct. We have denounced them as anti-Christian for adopting the ancient tribal view of the responsibility of the group rather than of the individual.

WE DARE NOT, if our survival is to be worthwhile, recede from the progress that Western Christian civilization has made since Cain murdered Abel.

By George Sokolsky

Principle No. 3. It is a total negation of the morality of the family to expect a son to denounce his father or his mother. The Commandment says: "Honor thy Father and thy Mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

In the story of Noah, the morals of the Hebrews are most strongly symbolized in the conduct of Ham gazing upon the nakedness of his father, Noah, who was drunk. The Hebrew moral is that even if a father is evil, it is not the function of his son to shame his father or mother.

This law of life is inviolable if we are to have an organized society on a moral basis.

WE HAVE CRITICIZED and attacked Communist society for using children as spies upon their parents. We have denounced the Russians for encouraging children to advance themselves in the Kom-somol by "confessing" to the conduct of their parents. Yet, in effect, that is precisely what we ask Landy to do about his mother.

It is a total negation of Hebraic-Christian morality and whoever is responsible for even questioning a son about his mother, in this respect, is unworthy to hold public office in our society.

How long are we to be cursed by the ineptitude and stupidity of amateurs in the field of opposition to communism? How long will it take our government to learn that communism is not to be fought by adopting the morals of Lenin and Stalin?

over the muddy fields if necessary. Kerrigan's union had two big house trailers which they had been using for varied missions before the floods came. Now the trailers are on the move. They're equipped with refrigerators, stoves, beds, emergency medical supplies and a tiny hospital staff, he tells me.

To meet the desperate need for fresh and pure water, the union is renting big trucks, and plans to load them with thousands of big water cooler bottles and rush them into the flooded districts.

THE BIG PROBLEM is communications. Many of the key men needed by the unions have been out of contact, since so many lines are down. Once they are gathered, the AFL and CIO councils will begin raising money to feed a nd clothe their people and mobilize them to help re-open badly damaged plants.

Leo Perlis, director of the CIO's Community Services Committee, the CIO's own Red Cross, has been receiving reports on the damage. He tells me that the industrial damage is "simply fantastic." Whole industrial towns will have to be rebuilt. Homes have been destroyed by the thousands in "the worst catastrophe which has ever hit us," Perlis said.

WE'LL KNOW SOON, CIO utility and communication union workers have been working without sleep, and many without pay, for days repairing lines and trying to restore power and communications systems.

From Gering, Perlis and Kerrigan now comes one idea—the creation by labor of emergency disaster units all over the country so that lives and livelihoods can be saved more swiftly next time. The funds are there. What's needed now is some planning.

Disaster Service

From the cabin of the giant stratoscruiser winging in from Europe, soggy New England looked like the waterlogged jungles of Asia — and we couldn't guess why until we landed and saw the first U. S. news papers.

After clearing customs I headed back into some of the frightful flash floods of areas and found parts of modern America as helpless as a Thailand village on stilts. And out of this grimness came the idea of a special Point Four program for all America itself.

Few people out of the flood areas realize that behind the tragedy of men, women and children drowning in swirling waters is the tragedy of scores of thousands of working men and women who won't be able to earn their daily bread for many weeks because whole plants have been wiped out and commuting rails and roads ripped up by the deadly rush of water.

ALL THIS in a part of the country which never thought it could be hit by such devastation any more than by lava from Mount Fuji.

Pity, too, is that so few unions, which have been spending millions of dollars on scores of projects, were adequately prepared for this holocaust.

Some unions were, however. In Pennsylvania, even as the horrible task of digging bodies out of the blackish land was under way, the Northeast Department of the AFL's International Ladies Garment Workers Union swung its mobile health center into action. This is the only one of its kind in the nation. It is built into a large modern trailer—equipped for X-ray work, laboratory tests and mass inoculation. It has its own sterilizing system and its own power plant using special generators.

You have to see an area in which darkened communities are menaced further by polluted water to appreciate the almost incalculable worth of such a trailer. Purified water is essential for the prevention of pestilence and death.

THE UNION's vice-president, David Gingold, head of the Northeast Department, put in an extra sterilizing unit and added an emergency staff to the mobile health center's doctor, nurse and technician. Then he offered the unit to Pennsylvania's Gov. George M. Leader—who assigned it first to Yardley, Pa., an isolated, almost totally destroyed community of some 1,500 persons.

The trailer took on 9,000 antityphoid shots, blankets and food and was in the business of saving lives even before the floods subsided.

Another union which swung into action fast was the Eastern Region 9 of the CIO's Auto Workers, directed by Charles Kerrigan, who also is chief of the union's National Copper and Brass Council. Kerrigan and his colleagues found that at least one big brass plant was wiped out, and others badly damaged—so that no one could work in them even if they could get to the factories.

NOT ONLY WERE the roads and bridges washed out and the communication lines down—but hundreds of union members lost their cars in the seething waters. At this moment Kerrigan is contacting the Willys Motor Co. in a search for jeeps, old and new, to carry his men to their plants right living again:

1. Inherit money during your vacation. There is no point in laboring this idea further. Its advantages are obvious.

2. Try to get called for jury duty. The pay is small, but your boss can hardly fire you if you plead guilty to serving the republic.

3. Grow an ulcer. Employers are notoriously sympathetic toward this ailment because, since they are sure that anyone afflicted with it is dedicated to his job, they will be particularly impressed by the fact you developed the ulcer during your time off from work.

4. Take up a new hobby, such as bird watching, or (if you're the indoor type) girl watching. Nothing will pep up your living more than your first thrilling glimpse of a rose-breasted grosbeak trilling on a bough or a tufted secretary at bay on an office limb.

5. Go on a diet. If you are normal you probably gained a pound a day on your vacation. (A fellow is duty bound to if he stayed at a hotel on the American plan, which calls for three square meals a day.)

6. If you are single, go ahead and marry the girl you met at that summer resort and made all those sunshine promises to. Marriage will end any man's vacation.

7. If you are already wed, tell your wife you'd like a divorce so you can marry a blonde you met on the beach. Naturally she'll want to know which blonde you have in mind, and this will result in interesting and stimulating family conversations that will keep the memory of your vacation alive for months and months.

8. Simply buckle down again to work and face the fact that vacation is over. Of course, if you can actually do this it proves you are a born leader and don't really belong in the employee class at all.

9. Inherit money. When you come down to it, this is the first and last solution. Summon your strength and try to inherit as the more you have the more you have to count while waiting for your next vacation.

Here one sound and simple rule applies. If at all possible, the money should be inherited from other members of your family. Money inherited from strangers always causes local gossip.

Morrow Countian Files $50,000 Suit in Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Kathleen B. Smotherman of Mansfield is named defendant in a $50,000 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Sue Bowman, a 14-year-old resident of Edison, through her mother, Mrs. Madge M. Bowman.

Miss Bowman asks $50,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered on July 17, 1954, in Galion, while a passenger in a car, driven by Doris B. Stoffer. She also seeks $299 for hospital and medical expenses.

The defendant is charged with passing over the center line of the road in attempting to make a left turn. She also is charged with negligence and failure to yield the right of way.

Joe DiMaggio has made two trips to Cooperstown, N. Y. The first time he failed as a pinch hitter with the Yankees and the second time, July 25, 1955, he was inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Vacation Hangover

NEW YORK

Returning from a vacation is much more of an ordeal than going on one.

There is a thing called the "post-vacation blues," a hangover disease from a sprightly spree in freedom. May be half the adult working population of America is suffering from this seasonal epidemic ailment at this moment.

One returns from a summer vacation to his daily bread — and — butter chores with the hypnotic feeling of a wild bird fixed by the steady gaze of a snake. The job a man lives by holds no glory; he groans in his rut; he feels no victory in accepting his usual insulting weekly paycheck.

(DID ANY MAN in the history of the world ever come back from a vacation and meet a raise in pay? What a delicious dream! If you find a few extra bucks in your next envelope don't think it's a mistake.)

Lacking this surprise, the ordinary vacationer comes back to his daily tasks in office or factory with a split-leg regret. One foot faithfully plods toward the regular routine, the other holds back in a desperate toe-clutch on a last lost liberty.

What can a man do to avoid this straddle of mind and body? How can a man adjust to the problems created by the death of a vacation?

HERE ARE A FEW how-to-do-it suggestions to cushion the shock of actually having to earn your own work and face the fact that vacation is over. Of course, if you can actually do this it proves you are a born leader and don't really belong in the employee class at all.

9. Inherit money. When you come down to it, this is the first and last solution. Summon your strength and try to inherit as the more you have the more you have to count while waiting for your next vacation.

Stengel To Send Rookie Hurler Against Cleveland

Coleman Named To Oppose Wynn in Opener of Series

CLEVELAND (AP)—With his New York Yankees holding a half game lead in the American League race, Casey Stengel calls on Gary (Rip) Coleman, his newest rookie, to pitch tonight's opener of a three-game series against the Cleveland Indians.

Manger Al Lopez, whose third-place Indians are only a game behind the Yanks, plans no surprises. He's sticking with veteran righthander Early Wynn, who has been ineffective recently but has done his best work of the season against New York.

While Stengel's selection of Coleman was a surprise, he has pulled similar strategy before. Late in the 1951 race he started Stubby Overmire against the Indians, and won a victory that gave the Yanks the lift they needed to win the pennant. Stengel replaced Overmire midway in the game with Joe Ostrowski, and the two St. Louis Browns discards shut out the Indians 2-0.

Winn First Start

Coleman, up from Denver in the American Association, won his first major league start last week, beating Baltimore 12-6 with the help of Bob Grim.

Wynn, whose 14-8 record is tops among Cleveland starters, is 3-1 against the Yanks this year. The game he lost was 2-1 in 11 innings.

While the Yanks and Indians are scrapping, second place Chicago, a half game off the pace, entertains seventh place Washington.

The Indians have won 10 of 17 games from the Yanks this year; they've out-hit them 142-123, outscored them 76-59, and out-homered them 21-18.

Cleveland will be playing without Larry Doby, Centerfielder Doby, whose .292 batting average is second behind the Indians regulars, injured a thigh muscle Tuesday and may not return to action until late next week.

Lopez has shifted Al Smith from right to center, Vic Wertz from first base to right field, and put Ferris Fain at first.

May Hit Million

Yankee-Indians games have been drawing an average of about 35,000 fans to Lakeland Stadium this season, and this series could push Cleveland's attendance total over the million mark. Yesterday's 2-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox boosted the attendance total to 887,222.

Home runs by Al Smith and Bob Avila gave Cleveland the victory yesterday. Smith hit his 18th of the season as the leadoff batter in the first inning. Avila hit his 10th in the sixth inning.

Boston's big Frank Sullivan and Cleveland's Mike Garcia both pitched the route. Garcia won his first game in three weeks, striking out four and walking only two.

Billy Goodman, Bosox second baseman, got four of the seven hits off Garcia. Gene Woodling, Cleveland's most consistent hitter recently, got two of the eight hits off Sullivan.

Ted Williams, who drove in four runs in the series opener Tuesday night, went hitless in four times at bat.

Boxing scores on wild pitch. Chicago White Sox second baseman Nellie Fox skids across home plate after scoring all the way from second base on a wild pitch by Baltimore Orioles pitcher Jiff Wilson. Covering home plate, Wilson (36) gets throw from Catcher Hal Smith too late to make the tag. Action came in third inning of first game at Comiskey Park in Chicago. White Sox won first game, 14-1.

Gilmer Sparks Lions in 17-14 Exhibition Win

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions, worried over star quarterback Bobby Layne's injuries, breathed easier today after watching Harry Gilmer run and pass his team to a 17-14 exhibition over the Washington Redskins.

Gilmer, former University of Alabama tailback, completed a pass to rookie Dave Middleton from Auburn for a 35-yard touchdown in the first quarter of Wednesday night's game, and ran around right end from the four for a third quarter score.

A 27-yard punt return by Middleton and a 26-yard pass from Gilmer to Jug Girard set up the third period score.

Washington's two sub-quarterbacks, Al Dorow and Ralph Guglielmi, accounted for one touchdown each. Dorow, who played most of the first three quarters, led the Redskins to the seven and then passed to Norb Hecker in the end zone in the first quarter.

Guglielmi scored in the final two minutes of the game on an eight-yard dash. He had completed a 28-yard pass to end Johnny Carson three plays before.

Doak Walker booted a 43-yard field goal early in the first period. Gilmer picked up 180 yards by completing 13 of 21 passes.

Layne returned to Detroit Wednesday for treatment of an old shoulder injury which has given him more trouble this year than previously.

Washington coach Joe Kuharich let his No. 1 quarterback, Eddie LeBaron, sit out the game so the coach could watch Dorow and Guglielmi perform.

Youngstown Team Blocked in Bid for Pony League Title

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A fighting Washington (Pa.) team meets Youngstown, Ohio, tonight for the championship of the Pony League World Series.

Washington rallied after allowing Youngstown four runs in the first inning last night to pull out a 6-4, 8-inning victory over the Ohioans. With none out and one aboard as the result of a walk, leftfielder Don Richmond socked a home run for the Pennsylvanians to climax an uphill struggle.

After Youngstown had tallied four runs in the first, pitcher Jim Brown settled down to pitch shut-out ball the rest of the way. While scattering four hits, he struck out 15.

Youngstown, which had scored three consecutive victories, could have sewed up the championship with a win as Washington had a 3-1 record going into the game.

Washington's two sub-quarterbacks, Al Dorow and Ralph Guglielmi, accounted for one touchdown each. Dorow, who played most of the first three quarters, led the Redskins to the seven and then passed to Norb Hecker in the end zone in the first quarter.

Guglielmi scored in the final two minutes of the game on an eight-yard dash. He had completed a 28-yard pass to end Johnny Carson three plays before.

Orioles Win Nightcap

Yankees Nail Lead as Chisox Split Pair Against Baltimore

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

One thing was crystal clear today in the foggy American League pennant chase. If the Chicago White Sox could manhandle the pesky Baltimore Orioles like the other three flag contenders, they might be leading the loop by four or five games.

As it is, Chicago was knocked out of first place yesterday when they split a doubleheader with the Orioles for the second day in a row.

Back into the No. 1 spot went the New York Yankees after Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle socked back-to-back homers in the ninth inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers 3-2.

Chicago bats rang for 20 hits in the opener as Baltimore was submerged 14-1, but the Orioles snapped back to grab the nightcap 2-1. The Cleveland Indians evened their two-game series with the Boston Red Sox, winning 2-0, while Kansas City swept its two-game set with Washington by winning 5-0.

In the National League, Brooklyn widened its first-place gap over the Milwaukee Braves to 12½ games in a home run display that kept the Chicago Cubs for the second straight day 9-5.

The New York Giants evened their two-game series by downing the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1, and the Pittsburgh Pirates made it two straight over the Cincinnati Reds 4-2.

True, the four-game split with Baltimore left Chicago only half a game out of first place, but those are contests gone into the record book. Had the White Sox swept the series, as Manager Marty Marion had hoped, Chicago would be ruling the roost today by 1½ games.

In 20 meetings with Baltimore, the Yankees have won 18 games from the cellar-dwelling Birds.

On the other hand, Chicago has won only 10 of 18 games with Baltimore, Cleveland, in third place, a game behind the Yankees, has done almost as well, winning 15 of 18 from the Orioles. The fourth-place Boston Red Sox, 4½ games behind New York, are 11-5 with Baltimore.

Pierce Wins
In the opener yesterday, Southpaw Billy Pierce coasted in, coping his fourth in a row and 11th of the year. Dave Philley's eighth homer was the lone Baltimore tally. But Bill Wight scattered nine Chicago hits in the nightcap, and Chicago's sole run came on Sherm Lollar's homer in the ninth, his 15th.

Al Smith slapped his 18th homer in the first inning to get Cleveland away fast against Boston and Frank Sullivan. Bob Avila led off the sixth with his 10th home run. Mike Garcia held Boston to seven hits, blanking Ted Williams.

Steve Gromek looked like a winner for Detroit as he limited the Yankees to one hit in seven innings. Al Kaline had blasted a two-run Detroit homer in the first inning off Whitey Ford. But the Yanks, beaten Tuesday by Detroit, got one run back in the eighth on three singles. Berra and Mantle wrapped it up in the ninth. Reliever Bob Grimm was credited with the victory.

Arnold Portocarrero engineered the Kansas City whitewash of Washington, a neat three-hitter. Hector Lopez had three singles and batted in three runs. Vic Power's 16th homer and the fourth for Joe Astroth accounted for the other runs.

Brooklyn round-trippers, two by Frank Keller, and the 28th for Roy Campanella and No. 22 for Gil Hodges made it easy for Russ Meyer to defeat the Cubs.

Local 1949 Captures Crown For Action in Second Round

Local 1949 captured the second round championship of Industrial League No. 2 by defeating Erie No. 2 8-6 last night at Garfield Park.

The Erie squad, first round champs, went into the contest with one loss in second-round play and needed a victory to tie the Local 1949 for second-round honors.

Both teams will clash next Wednesday at 7 p.m. for the league crown.

Local 1949 won it in the bottom of the eighth frame on a two-run homer by Hensel.

The winners grabbed a 6-1 lead on two markers in the fourth and three more in the fifth but the game was sent into an extra inning when Erie matched them, getting two in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Each team collected seven hits, with Erie stranding 15 men on the base paths. Green handled pitching duties for Local 1949 while Cottrill chucked for Erie. Green fanned eight but walked nine while Cottrill struck out one while giving up four free passes to first.

Roberson with a triple and home run, Green with a double and triple, and Hensel with a double and homer led the Local 1949 hitters.

Pitching—Bill Wight, Baltimore Orioles allowed nine hits, fanned eight, to beat the White Sox 2-1 after Chicago had taken the first game of a doubleheader 14-1. Hitting—Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, slammed back-to-back homers in the ninth inning to defeat Detroit 3-2 and move New York back into first place in the American League.

Miami Star Named

CLINTON, S. C. (AP)—A former Miami (Ohio) University star, Jerry Wampfler, has been appointed assistant football coach under Bill Crutchfield at Presbyterian College.

Wampfler, here from a coaching position at New Philadelphia, Ohio, High School succeeds Ed Schembecher as line coach and head baseball coach.

Klu Blanked For Year at Bucs' Field

BROOKLYN (AP)—That part of a long road trip which was supposed to be the smoothest turned out to be a rough ride for the Cincinnati Reds.

And what figures to be the biggest bumps still are ahead as the Reds moved in here today and have visits to Philadelphia, New York, Milwaukee and St. Louis to follow.

Pirates Surprised

That supposed smooth part of the trip was to Pittsburgh but the last place Pirates came up with a couple of fine pitching performances to sweep the two-game series, the last decision by a 4-2 count yesterday.

That last defeat was particularly embarrassing because it came at the hands of Dick Hall, a young fellow who doubles as an outfielder.

He was an A-1 pitcher yesterday, however, as he held the Reds to six hits and had a shutout until the ninth. His six-hit performance duplicated that by Vernon Law the night before.

In addition, the Pirates used the Redlegs' own favorite weapon, the home run, to grab the victory.

Hall, himself, got one in the fifth to push the Pirates out in front after he and Joe Nuxhall had engaged in a scoreless pitching duel. Then in the sixth Dick Cole singled. He was forced by Roberto Clemente and Frank Thomas singled. Tom Saffell went in to run for Clemente who had just injured his knee earlier but that was a lot of wasted lineup shuffling because Preston Ward knocked a two-and-one pitch out of the park to score three runs. Clemente could have crawled home.

Rally in Ninth

The Rhinelanders caused Hall little trouble until the ninth. Singles by Wally Post, Chuck Harmon and Matt Batts were sandwiched around a walk to Roy McMillan for two runs but the threat ended as Dick Groat threw out Johnny Temple on a play that brought a violent protest from Temple.

The game also saw the end of Gus Bell's consecutive game hitting streak. He had hit safely in 13 straight games prior to yesterday's contest. It also meant that slumping Ted Kluszewski will not join the select group of sluggers who have hit home runs in all parks in the league this year.

Kluszewski had hit at least one homer in every other park but a single was the best he could do yesterday—the last time the Reds will appear in Forbes Field this year.

Moving in here, the Redlegs were scheduled for a two-night doubleheader against the Dodgers and they planned to pitch Joe Black and Johnny Klipstein. The Brooks expected to use Johnny Podres and Roger Craig or Karl Spooner.

'Grand' Set Friday

Handicap Events Top Card For Trapshoot at Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—After three days of 16-yard events, handicaps take over today at the 56th Grand American Trapshoot, and the outcome is more unpredictable than ever.

The preliminary handicap, a dress rehearsal for tomorrow's Grand American, makes up the day's schedule. More than 1,700 of the Western Hemisphere's finest amateur shooters are expected to go after the prize money which may reach $20,000 in guaranteed purses and far over that amount in optional wagering.

For years in handicap shooting the marksmen have been placed from 17 to 25 yards back of the trap from which the clay target is sprung. The handicap yardage is based on the known ability and registered target average of the entrant.

This year, for the first time, even the novices will be placed at 18 yards and the hotshots as far back as 27. Today's event carries a guaranteed first prize of $1,000 to the winner, and assures $6,000 being split among the first 92.

Entry fee is $20, and each entrant may play an additional $33 in the optionals in the 100-target race.

Only amateurs share in the prize money, the professionals firing only for trophies.

Preliminary score sheets placed on the big board last night carried the names of 900 early entrants representing every state except Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island. Entrants also were on hand from the Canal Zone and three Canadian provinces.

Yesterday the 16-yard shooting ended with Ned Lilly, Stanton, Mich., who has broken 600 targets successively since Monday, and Helen Thomas, 15-year-old Los Angeles mite, winning the North American clay target championships.

It was Lilly's third straight day of firing 200. The 39-year-old lumber yard proprietor outshot a field of about 900 in the three days, the only one to do it without a miss. Lilly's 600-straight tied a 1938 record set by Joe Heistand, Hillsboro, Ohio, who went on to extend his string to 1,179, the current record.

Miss Thomas is the youngest entrant ever to take the feminine laurels. Her 98-99-197 tied her with four others for the second best record ever in the North American event.

The professional crown was won by a 44-year-old Remington Arms employee—D. Lee Braun of San Francisco. His 199 of 200 gave him the title for the second time since 1947. He's a former Army Air Corps shooting instructor.

Marty Hogan of Chicago took top honors in the junior championship for youngsters 15 to 18. Marty, 15, registered a 99-99-198 to win.

In other events: Zone team competition: 1. Central Zone, 2. Eastern and Western (tie), 3. Southern, 4. Southwestern (winning score—973 x 1,000).

Sub junior championship (youngsters under 15)—George Williams Jr., Compton, Calif., and Jackie O'Donnell, Bellevue, Idaho (tie, 197 x 200).

Class B national championship—Cy Darling, Pratt, Kan. (in a shootoff with C. L. Jourdan, Amherst, Mass., after they tied at 197).

The champion of champions race, in which 36 state 16-yard titleholders competed, was called because of darkness. It will be decided today.

Sox Matched With Nats for 3-Game Series

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox week of decision has started out shakily, but the climax is yet to come as the Sox start a three-game series today with lowly Washington. Then they clash head on with the leading New York Yankees in a doubleheader Sunday.

While the Sox are thus engaged, their chief rivals—the Yankees and third-place Cleveland—will be locked in a cut-throat three-game series at Cleveland.

If the Sox should sweep the series with the Senators (they've beaten Washington 15 out of 17 games this season) they're almost certain to gain on one or both of their rivals.

Before today's games, they were a half game (three percentage points) behind the Yankees and a half game ahead of the Indians. They aren't awaiting the Senators in too snug a fashion after losing two out of four to last-place Baltimore in the last two days.

They knocked out 20 hits to take the first game of Wednesday's doubleheader 14-1 behind Billy Pierce's classy pitching. But they were handcuffed by lefty Bill Wright of the Orioles 2-1 in the second game.

The Sox had taken over first place Tuesday night after splitting a twin bill with the Orioles which the Yankees lost. But the Yanks reclaimed the top spot yesterday by beating Detroit 3-2.

"It beats me," said Sox Manager Marty Marion in disgust, "how we can score 14 runs in one game, then get only one in the next. We just can't seem to win the second game of the doubleheaders."

Significantly, there are six more twin bills in the Sox schedule.

The Duke University football team has three Murrys. Two are players and the other is the coach Bill Murray is head coach. Bob Murray is a center. Another Bob Murray is a quarterback.

Budge, Kramer See U.S. Win In Cup Action

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Take it from two former amateur tennis kings with the big game: the United States will retain the Davis Cup against the challenge of Australia starting tomorrow, perhaps by a margin as big as 5-0.

That was the prediction today of Don Budge and Jack Kramer as the draw was made for the two opening singles matches tomorrow on the famed Stadium Court.

Secretary of State Dulles will draw the names of the opposing players out of the huge coveted cup.

"Budge and Kramer, now professionals but themselves onetime defenders of the international trophy, made their predictions after numerous workouts with Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, the pair who brought the cup back to the United States last December after a four-year sojourn in Australia.

"The U.S. will win because Tony and Vic have been working out against players with powerful serves and the big game such as Don and I have," said Kramer. "By contrast the Australians' practices have been with team substitutes. They would have been much better off if they had obtained the aid of such Australian stars as Frank Sedgman and Dinny Pails."

Kramer said he looked for the Americans to win by at least 4-1, "perhaps by as much as 5-0."

Budge declined to predict the margin of victory but said he was confident the Americans would win the doubles—considered the key point in the five-match competition.

Pair of Local Entries Win Races on Fair's Final Card

Two Marion horses and one from Richmond were race winners last night as the Marion County Fair concluded its harness racing program.

Dr. J. G. McNamara's R. K. Giers took the free-for-all trot in straight dashes. Skeeter Brown piloted the classy Marion trotter to the wins in times of 2:13 and 2:15 2-5. Clever Helen, owned by H. H. Young of Lowell, O., came in second in both dashes and third place went to Josedale M.R., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vanmatre of Urbana.

THE SECOND MARION winner was Silver Cloud, owned by Clay Schotte and driven by Clair Baker. The Marion entry topped the first dash in 2:13 1-5 to clinch the trophy. He nosed out Becky Counsel and Cinda Lee Volo for the top spot.

In the second heat of that event, however, Mrs. Idella Ewing of Sunbury, only woman driver entered in the meet here, nipped the Marion horse in a thrilling stretch run with Becky Counsel. Silver Cloud led most of the way but Mrs. Ewing brought her entry out of the turn and overtook Baker just before reaching the finish line. Logan Hal took the third spot in that dash.

Baker also won the race trophy in the Class 24 trot, driving Pastime Lee, owned by W. J. Baker of Richmond. In the first dash, he turned in the clock of the night in 2:10 1-5. Baker took an early lead and stayed in front all the way. Mildred Wycoff finished second with Little Nib coming home third.

Baker Notches Split Decision Against Layne

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Bob Baker, No. 2 heavyweight contender from Pittsburgh, rallied in the late rounds Wednesday night to gain a split decision over Utah's Rex Layne in a fight that probably didn't help the fistic careers of either.

Baker, who had everything to lose and nothing to gain against a boxer who has been up and down the fight ladder in recent years, probably lost some prestige in gaining only a split decision—and his desire for a crack at Rocky Marciano's crown undoubtedly received a setback.

Layne, who lost twice previously to Baker, needed a win to project himself back into the heavyweight win the second dash of the 30 pace limelight.

Wants Indians To Run Own Affairs

Young Navajo Seeking Independence for Tribe

WINDROW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—Independence for America's largest Indian tribe in 10 years? That is the hope of one vigorous young man who fills a key role in tribal affairs.

"In 10 years I would like to see the Navajos take over, with every one of the agency jobs filled by Navajos," says M. Maurice McCabe, secretary-treasurer of the tribe.

Programs Proposed

A many-sided program, or series of programs, aimed at ultimately turning the tribesmen loose to shape their own destiny is gaining momentum. Among major phases are:

By the government—schooling of children and movement of tribesmen to urban areas if they so desire.

By the tribe—encouragement of industries to move to the reservation and financial aid to Navajos for college educations.

The once warlike Navajos, 87 years after signing a peace treaty with the United States, still have a long row to hoe before they will be running their own affairs. This year there are about 40 tribal employees compared with 3,000 Indian Bureau employees.

Handle Own Affairs

Supt. G. Warren Spaulding of the Indian Bureau's Navajo Agency says he has seen "a growing ability" on the part of the Indians to handle their own affairs.

"As fast as we reasonably can, we transfer authority to the tribe," he says.

McCabe, called "highly proficient" by Spaulding, is optimistic. "I would say this will be one of the most highly industrialized areas of New Mexico or Arizona in a few years," he says.

The real future of the tribe, he feels, rests with a program started a couple of years ago by which the tribal council pays college costs for promising young Navajos. It is putting out $100,000 a year for that purpose now. Scholarships are with the understanding the recipients will serve their people in some capacity for three years.

Desire To Learn Grows

"In my opinion that is the salvation of the Navajo people," McCabe says. Students are in nursing, pre-medical courses, pre-law, engineering and education. There were 139 Navajos in colleges last year.

Faced with shortage of work on the 15-million acre reservation itself, the tribe is considering building a second sawmill and seeking to attract industry. The council has recommended that tribal funds be used to build and lease facilities for businessmen who may show interest in locating on Navajo land.

McCabe says his opinion that the tribe can shift for itself in 10 years is shared "by a large percentage of the Navajos." His hopes for the Navajos' future are high.

New Borg-Warner Contract Includes Layoff Pay Clause

CLEVELAND (AP)—Union workers at the Persco Products division of the Borg-Warner Corp. last night ratified a new contract which includes a layoff pay plan similar to the settlement with big auto firms. Ratification came an hour before a midnight strike deadline.

Members of the CIO United Automobile Workers Union approved the contract by a vote of 415 to 182. It was the first agreement signed with any of the 14 Borg-Warner plants, which employ a total of 30,000 workers. Negotiations continued at the other plants.

Union leaders said gains, including the layoff pay benefits, amount to an average of 19 cents an hour the first year of the three-year contract. Wages are raised 6 cents an hour or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater, each year.

Play Presented In Lighter Vein Scores TV Hit

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's see. A decent time has elapsed since the first thought. But I haven't changed my mind. "The King and Mrs. Candle," a musical comedy presented by Producers' Showcase on NBC-TV Monday evening, was the most delightful television entertainment of the summer season.

The crazy thing about that flat statement is that the subject matter just didn't sound like my dish. Turned on the set through a sense of duty. Haven't liked a story line about a mythical Balkan kingdom and its mythical ruler since George Barr McCutcheon's "Gaucho" read at the age of 12.

But Cyril Ritchard as King Rupert, and Joan Greenwood as his betrothed Juna, and Richard Haydn as Bibbo, his remarkable prime minister, immediately carried me away. The play by Sumner Locke Elliott was sheer fluff, which actors and actresses played as sheer farce. One lives to regret extravagant statements, but let's set it down: The lines were superb comic writing. The actors—especially Ritchard—were universally excellent. Camera, sets and choreography were brilliant. Music and lyrics by Moose Chailap and Chuck Sweeney, while not Cole Porter were pleasant.

Much of the credit goes to the director, Arthur Penn. Let's hope drop the charge, he also lent the defendant $8.65 to pay the court costs.

The significance of "The King and Mrs. Candle" is that it's a television original, first presented as a play on TV Playhouse in April 1954 and proving to be much better as a musical comedy. There's talk of turning it out on Broadway. Maybe it's not right for Broadway.

Ohio Legion Posts Urged To Conduct Flood Relief Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio headquarters of the American Legion here today asked member posts to collect food, clothing, bedding, furniture and money to help the flood-avaged areas of eastern Pennsylvania.

BUYRUS — Three girls will represent Crawford County in the judging of dairy cattle at the Ohio State Fair which opens Friday in Columbus. The county trio includes Mary Jo Gunther, 18, her sister, Julia, 16, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gunther of near Nevada, and Ruby Crissinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Crissinger of near Buyrus. The 4-H judging team won first place at the county fair here earlier this month and attended a judging practice session at Ohio State University last week.

William Mitchell, Attorney General For Hoover, Dies

SYOSSET, N. Y. (AP)—William De Witt Mitchell, 80, a Democrat who served as U. S. Attorney general under President Herbert Hoover, died Wednesday at his home here. Mitchell, a native of Winona

Minn., had been practicing law at St. Paul, Minn., when in 1919 he became regional counsel for the U. S. Railroad Administration. In June 1925, President Calvin Coolidge, a Republican, appointed him solicitor general of the United States.

He was a member of Republican Hoover's Cabinet from 1929 to 1932.

In 1931, when the Lindbergh kidnapping case broke, Mitchell pledged all possible government aid but disclosed the lack of federal jurisdiction over kidnapers. The case led to passage of the federal kidnap law.

After leaving public office, Mitchell joined a New York law firm in 1933.

NEW...from Duncan Hines: Old-fashioned BURNT SUGAR Cake Mix

Caramel Flavor in the Cake—Caramel Flavor in the Frosting!

Enough Burnt Sugar Syrup for both included in this exciting new mix

DUNCAN HINES
America's Foremost Authority on Good Eating

Duncan Hines says: "If you've ever tasted a real old-fashioned Burnt Sugar Cake the way it's best... with a Burnt Sugar Frosting that enhances the caramel taste... you know how delicious it is. If you've ever made it the old-fashioned way, you know there's quite a trick to caramelizing sugar to just the right flavor."

"With my new Burnt Sugar Cake Mix, you don't have to do any caramelizing at all! I've found a way to package enough Burnt Sugar Syrup to flavor the cake, and make the perfect frosting for it, too."

"Try it soon! I guarantee you'll serve a cake that will make memories... the old-fashioned, caramel-rich kind of cake that always went first at church suppers. I consider it a real adventure in good eating."

NO SUGAR TO CARAMELIZE!

This packet contains a concentrated burnt sugar syrup—inside the package.

Just dissolve the contents of the packet in enough water to make ½ cup. It's liquid, so it mixes instantly with a stir of the spoon.

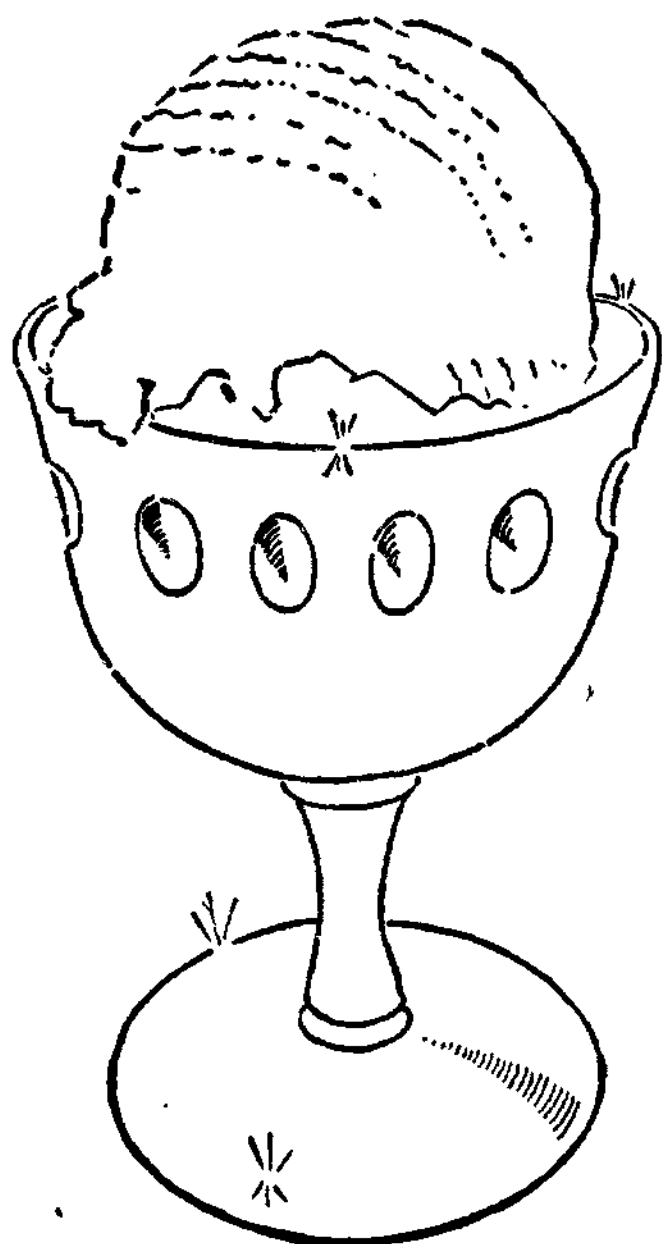

Add half of this mixture to the cake batter, as directed on the package. The cake will have a true caramel flavor and color.

Add the rest of the mixture to the rich butter-frosting... enough for a thick filling between layers, and frosting, too.

Henney & Cooper PICTURE TALK by Kent

"TAKE IT EASIER" is the slogan recently adopted by one of the major manufacturers of movie equipment. We like that phrase. It embodies in just three little words the essential background to good picture taking. Relax! Do it the easy way. Modern cameras practically operate themselves if you give them a chance. Most cameras today have average settings indicated for average pictures in normal light. 90% of the usual run of subjects can be taken at these settings. However, if you have a camera with adjustable lens and shutter, better take a few minutes time to learn how to operate it at other than average settings, so that you can make the most of your equipment. In most cases, camera adjustments are nothing more than a small amount of simple arithmetic. To be brief photography is EASY — unless you make hard work of it.

Sneak preview: Heard just this morning that there is still another new POLAROID PICTURE ROLL to be released soon. Can't say when, but you may be sure we'll have it FIRST in Marion. Watch for it!

Arrangements Set For PTA Tag Day

Arrangements have been completed by members of the Marion City PTA Council for their annual "tag day" sale Friday and Saturday in downtown Marion.

Representatives from the PTA units in the city will be stationed at various corners in the area from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday to receive contributions from the public.

All proceeds obtained will go into the PTA's welfare and shoe funds and also toward School Boy Patrol work, teacher scholarships and the Dental and Hearing Clinic at Marion General Hospital.

Mrs. Donald Strickland of Silver Street School is general chairman for the "tag day" sale.

Mayor Robinson, in issuing a proclamation designating Friday and Saturday as the "tag days," urges the people of Marion to donate "in the interest of our children."

Boy, 15, Admits Killing Girl, 11, Near Saco, Me.

SACO, Maine (AP)—An 11-year-old girl's nude and battered body was found in woods here early today and Police Sgt. William Lombard said a 15-year-old boy had orally admitting killing her.

The victim, Doris Trudeau, had been reported missing by her parents late Wednesday.

Lombard said that Fortunat Michaud is being held without charge. Whether Doris had been raped was not definitely determined. Lombard said, pending an autopsy on the child's body.

The Michaud boy was under questioning by County Atty. William P. Donahue and City Marshal Raymond Kenney.

Doris' disappearance had been broadcast last night by a Biddeford radio station and another boy told police he had seen the missing girl in Michaud's company, police said.

Defense Command Will Form Three New Air Divisions

NEWBURY N. Y. (AP)—Major Gen. M. R. Nelson, commander of the Eastern Air Defense Force protecting the 26-state area east of the Mississippi River, announced today three new air divisions will be activated Sept. 8.

He said Eastern's present four air divisions will be retained, but their areas of air defense responsibility will be realigned.

The three new divisions are the 8th Air Division, with headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C.; the 37th Air Division with headquarters at Travis Air Force Base, Madison, Wis.; and the 58th Air Division, with headquarters at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Gen. Nelson indicated no significant increase in personnel is anticipated. He said new construction to cost an estimated $1,470,000, will include administration, operations and emergency power buildings at the three new division headquarters. Staffs will be assembled and function temporarily in existing facilities.

Hollywood Thieves Go For Three-Way Stretch

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If the thieves who broke into Stanley Elkin's auto are convicted they may get a three-way stretch. Elkin said he valued the girdles at $110 and the case at $34.

U.S. Airman, Hit in Shooting Spree, Critical

MARGATE, England (AP)—Lester Hunt, 21-year-old airman first class from Rantoul, Ill., was still in a critical condition today from bullet wounds inflicted by a fellow U.S. airman who ran amok with two guns at Manson Air Base. The crazed gunman, Napoleon Green, 22-year-old Chicago Negro, fatally shot two other Americans and one Briton Wednesday and wounded Hunt and eight other persons during his rampage with pistol and carbine.

Green finally died in a running gun fight with police on Ramsgate Beach. The two Americans were shot dead when they tried to disarm him after he emerged from a squadron armory waving the guns he had stolen. The dead were M.Sgt. Lawrence Velasquez, 34, Antonio, Colo., and A.Z.C. Nelson Gresham, Philadelphia.

The third victim, Royal Air Force Cpl. Raymond Peter Gray, was shot in the back while riding a bicycle.

Two other Americans were shot but neither was in serious condition. They were A.Z.C. Quannah Parker, 19, Waldorf, Md., and McDaniel talked Green into taking over and then rushed into a Clara, Calif. Six Britons were also hit by bullets. Air Force officials said Green stole the guns and began shooting a few hours before his scheduled appearance before a court-martial on charges of stealing $120 from a barracks mate.

After his shooting spree through camp, Green commandeered a car and forced M.Sgt. R. J. McDaniel, St. Paul, Minn., to drive him away from the base. After 15 minutes, McDaniel talked Green into taking over and then rushed into a butcher shop where he phoned a warning to police.

Insurance Company's Window Not Covered

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A vandal threw a rock through a window of the Farmers Insurance Group office Wednesday. The window wasn't covered by insurance. Homer Deal, the company's agent, said the premiums would have cost more than the window itself.

Reprieve Granted To Hocking Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he will confer today with his cabinet on the case of Benjamin Meyer, 26, of Hocking County, sentenced to be executed at Ohio Penitentiary for killing his wife.

The execution, originally planned for tonight. Lausche said the temporary stay was "for purposes of further investigation of the case." Meyer was convicted of slaying his estranged wife Velvia, in February, 1954. Defense attorneys said Meyer, seeking a reconciliation, had gone to the house near Logan where his wife was staying. An argument developed, and Mrs. Meyer was shot four times.

Unemployment Claims Soar in Flood's Wake

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department estimates that jobless payments in four flood-devastated states may exceed a million dollars a week. Claims are mounting in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania and the number may top 60,000, the department says.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market still leaned slightly to the upside as trading slowed in early afternoon today after an active and higher opening.

Steels were the strongest major group as Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube run up gains of two points. U. S. Steel and Republic also rose.

But the rest of the list was pretty well mixed although most chemicals and rubbers were fractionally on the upside.

Among the gainers were General Motors, Goodyear, Montgomery

Ward, Boeing, Douglas International Telephone, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse, General Electric, Standard Oil (NJ) and Pan American World Airlines. Losers included Chrysler, International Harvester, American Telephone & Telegraph, Anaconda, Union Carbide, American Tobacco, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio and Southern Pacific.

U. S. treasury bonds were unchanged in the over-the-counter market.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO (AP)—Dry weather throughout the Midwest gave a little strength to corn and soybeans at the opening on the Board of Trade today. Wheat started 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, September $1.92 1/4-92; corn 3/4 to 1 cent higher, September $1.26 1/4-27; oats 3/4 to 1/2 higher, September 57 1/2, and soybeans 3/4 to 2 cents higher, September $2.22 1/4-23.

Try oatmeal as a thickener for soups. It adds flavor and richness.

Erie Lists Income For Seven Months

Erie Railroad net income for the first seven months of 1953 was $4,486,699 or $1.27 per share of common stock before capital and sinking funds, Paul W. Johnston, president, announced today. In the same period last year it was $3,704,365, or $1.03 per share.

"From the stockholders' standpoint, results are actually more favorable than the comparative net income figures indicate," Johnston said. "Net operating revenues are $2 million better than last year. However, net income comparisons are distorted principally because of non-recurring tax credits in 1954 and the inclusion of interest charges in 1955 on new debentures in place of dividends on preferred stock as a result of the company's offer to exchange preferred for debenture. This latter transaction results in more dollars available for common stock earnings."

Erie directors will meet Aug. 30 to consider the third quarterly dividend payment on common stock. Two quarterly payments totaling 75 cents have been made so far this year. For the full year of 1954 Erie paid $1.50 on common stock.

Insurance Companies Approve Name Change

On Sept. 1 Farm Bureau Insurance Companies will become Nationwide Insurance Companies, making the first time in over a century that a major insurance company has changed its name. Company officials explain that the name change became necessary to permit planned expansion beyond their present 13-state operating area.

William B. Kelley, whose offices are located in the Farm Bureau building at 790 Bellefontaine Ave., is the local district manager.

German Steel Magnate

Roehling, 83, Succumbs
HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—Dr. Hermann Roehling, greatest steel magnate in the rich Saar Valley, died at a Heidelberg hospital Wednesday night. He was 83. He was formerly general director of the Roehling iron and steel works at Voelklingen and head of a German family which dominated the Saar's heavy industry for generations. The Roehling family was ousted from its holdings in 1945, when American troops turned the Saar over to France.

Heavily Armed French Troops Scour Morocco

OUED ZEM, Morocco (AP)—Three thousand French troops with 35 tanks, 40 motorized gun carriers and 100 trucks are deployed near here, trying to encircle fleeing Berber tribesmen before they can reach mountain hideouts.

The tribes staged murderous raids in the region Saturday. Officers in Meknes, directing the operations in the "insecurity area" about 100 miles southeast of Casablanca, said their men are meeting some resistance but that the tribesmen are withdrawing rapidly wherever possible.

Intensive search operations are continuing in villages of the region where the French suspect leaders of last week's bloody raids are hiding.

Disposal Plant Contract Hit in Wayne County

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes today made findings of $62,375 against an engineering firm and contractor in connection with work on a disposal plant at Dalton, Wayne County.

The disposal plant was only 40 per cent completed although more than 90 per cent of the contract amount has been spent.

The report added that sewer and water improvements in the village of some 1,000 residents "are bogged down" in irregularities. They total more than $175,000, the examiner said.

Named in the findings were President Earl H. Harrison and Vice President Richard B. Harrison of E. S. Harrison & Associates, McKeesport, Pa., and contractor

Earl L. Baughman of Sherrodsville.

The auditor's examination covered the period between Dec. 20, 1952, and last June 5. A copy went to the Wayne County prosecutor with a suggestion that the situation be aired in court.

B. B. Burns, engineer-examiner for Rhodes, said in his report that sewer manholes were not as deep as called for in plans and that some sewer lines were above basement floors. At another point, the report added, the sewer line was located on the north side of a creek on private property although plans called for location on the creek's south side.

Besides Baughman's disposal contract for $61,475, the report said Walter F. Shetter of Navarre bid $37,470 on a water extension contract and the Pustay Cement Construction firm was hired to build sewer lines for $76,800.

Food value in a quart of milk will cost 37 cents if bought in other foods.

Attorney Fails In Attempt To Unseat Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco attorney Aaron M. Sargent, failed yesterday to get Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman disqualified from a $1,700,000 suit filed by Sargent against the National Broadcasting Co. and an Ohio congressman.

Judge Goodman declared Sargent's affidavit was "contemptuous and scurrilous" and ruled it could not become a part of the court record. Sargent's reasons for seeking to disqualify the judge were not made public.

Sargent was an anti-Communist witness in May, 1954, before a congressional committee on tax exempt foundations.

He contends his reputation suffered because of remarks made during an NBC radio program by Congressman Wayne L. Hayes (D-Ohio).

Red Radio Attacks U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio charged today that U.S. shipment of Honest John rockets capable of carrying atomic warheads "is a serious menace to the security of Japan and peace in the Far East."

No Help to Fish

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (UP)—The outboard motor boats on the Chenango River are helping the fish—but not the fisherman.

Fishermen have complained to local authorities that the boats are scaring the fish away; that the internal combustion engines are making fishing harder and harder.

After a conference, the speed-boaters agreed to slow down and move to a more suitable place—for the fishermen.

Death Rate Cut but Not Case Load

Progress Is Slow in Battle Against TB

By THOMAS E. HENRY

WASHINGTON (NANA) — The U. S. is confronted by a paradox in its attempt to conquer the "white plague" of tuberculosis. A combined study by Army, Navy and Veterans Administration doctors has determined that the medical attack on TB is moving ahead swiftly and spinning its wheels at the same time.

The study has shown that while deaths from TB have declined 75 per cent in the last 10 years, with hospitalization for the malady down 50 per cent, the number of cases has remained almost unchanged.

A decade ago, the groups of doctors were appointed to evaluate the various treatments proposed, including the efficacy of new drugs. The physicians, headed by Dr. Donald S. King, chief TB consultant to the VA, has now reported to the council on pharmacy and chemistry of the American Medical Association.

The investigations covered 350 patients treated with the new drugs for 12 months and 2,200 treated for more than four months.

THE THREE BEST known drugs investigated by the physicians are streptomycin, aminosalicylic acid and isoniazid. None appear to be of permanent value when used alone, the doctors concluded. The tubercle bacilli, they found, soon develop resistance. They are quite effective, however, the committee found, when any two of the three are used in combination.

Still debatable, the doctors reported, is the value of two lately introduced and little-known drugs which have been advertised as having a powerful anti-tuberculosis effect. One of these is pyrazinamide. More than 300 patients in Veterans Administration hospitals are receiving this drug, but only a few have received it for more than the four months considered necessary for any evaluation. It has a poisonous effect on the liver which may appear as late as six months after the treatment has started, according to the report. The second new drug, still in a much more experimental stage, is called cycloserine or oxythymine. In laboratory experiments growth of tubercle bacilli resistant to both streptomycin and isoniazid is inhibited by this chemical, the report declared. Patients treated even less than four months apparently have been cured.

THE DANGER OF the drug, however, has not been thoroughly assessed, the doctor warned. Euphoric seizures were caused in two patients. Two others developed mental derangement. Skin eruptions forced discontinuance in three cases. The Veterans Administration is carrying out a complete critical study of the chemical before recommending its further use.

The most remarkable improvements in the tuberculosis picture, the service doctors reported, has been in tuberculosis infection of other organs than the lungs. A few years ago tuberculous meningitis — infection of the linings of the brain and spinal cord — was 100 per cent fatal. This was before streptomycin. In this disease of children, a recent report on treatment showed that of 69 cases, 48 patients survived.

"This does not mean," the doctor's board warns, "that these children necessarily are well. Complications occur. But the mere facts that they are still living is remarkable and many patients with proved tuberculous meningitis, particularly those who received prompt treatment, are apparently normal today."

MUCH THE SAME picture obtains, the board reports, for victims of tuberculosis of the bones and joints. The death rate apparently had dropped from more than 50 to less than 20 per cent.

Since the introduction of streptomycin there has been an 80 per cent fall in the mortality from tuberculosis of the genito-urinary tract. There is a good possibility, the doctors believe, of increasing this to 100 per cent.

Need for prolonged treatment in all tuberculosis cases — extending from one to two years — has become more clear, the doctors said. But they added that at least half the treatment usually can be carried out while the patient is active and working. Home treatment from the time the disease first is diagnosed, however, has resulted disastrously in several cases.

Despite the advances, the committee taught

ATLANTA 10 — Alice Montgomery, 15, of Thomaston, Ga., was baby sitting and teaching her young charges the alphabet via plastic blocks. She sneezed with an A in her mouth and it lodged in her windpipe.

Doctors here retrieved it but Alice now has her doubts about combining education and baby sitting.

Tall Persons Face Posture Problems

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (UP) — Tall persons have one big strike against them.

Miss Mathilde Messner, director of physical therapy at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, said the tall person has greater difficulty with posture and relaxation than the man or woman of average height.

"Consider the tall executive leaning over a desk too low for him,"

Miss Messner said "In no time at all he will develop a humped back, the muscles in his neck and shoulders will form into tight knots and the pain in the small of his back will reduce his efficiency."

While there is no remedy for being tall, she advised that swivel chairs always should be adjusted for comfort. She counseled against crossing the legs while seated, gripping the sides of the chair with the hands and sitting with the head jutting forward.

"Poor body mechanics is responsible for much bursitis, neuritis and other ills arising from faulty circulation," Miss Messner asserted.

Sheriff's Wife May Testify in Jackson Trial

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (U)—The wife of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago may take the stand today to back up her husband's testimony that he was not in Gallipolis at the time he is accused of making immoral proposals to a young airman.

Defense Attorney John A. Staker said he may put Trago's wife, Carrie, on the stand today. The attorney said he also had subpoenaed persons whom Trago testified he was serving with legal papers in Jackson when the alleged offense was committed.

Trago is charged with contributing to the delinquency of Gallipolis Airman David L. Hatfield, 17, last July 1. Hatfield has testified the sheriff drove him from Jackson to Gallipolis, making immoral proposals along the way and at Gallipolis.

Trago yesterday denied he picked up Hatfield or made improper proposals.

$500 Settlement Is Inadequate, Says Suspended Pastor

MILWAUKEE (U)—The Rev. George P. Crist, convicted by the United Lutheran Church, Northwest Synod, in a heresy trial, says he has been offered $500 by the synod to leave his parsonage at Durham, Wis., by Oct. 1.

The offer, the 31-year-old minister said, constitutes the total settlement offered by the synod's Executive Committee.

A synod trial committee found Pastor Crist guilty on 9 of 14 counts of doctrinal deviation and recommended he be suspended from his pulpit. The committee further suggested to the Executive Committee that he be given adequate financial support for himself, his wife and two children until the synod convention next spring has an opportunity to review the penalty. The committee suspended him from his pulpit.

Pastor Crist said the offer "does not constitute adequate financial support."

A synod spokesman said the Executive Committee believed the offer is adequate to tide Pastor Crist over until he finds other employment.

Czechs Following Soviet Lead, Order Armed Forces Cut

VIENNA, Austria (U)—Following Russia's lead, Czechoslovakia also has announced a cut in her armed forces.

Radio Prague said Wednesday night the Red regime plans to reduce the army by 34,000 men this year as a "result of the Geneva conference and the improvement in international relations."

The broadcast gave no figures on Czechoslovakia's armed strength, but Western estimates place it at about 240,000 men under arms, some 200,000 reserves and about 260,000 armed police.

border guards and people's militia.

Russia announced 12 days ago she planned to demobilize 640,000 men by Dec. 15. Like her satellites, she has kept her armed strength secret but the West estimates it at about 4 1/2 million men.

Long Beach Golfer Gets 2 Birdies on Same Hole

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—Frank Harvey, Long Beach golfer, holds the distinction of shooting two birdies on the same hole with a single shot at Recreation Park. Impossible? Not the way Harvey did it. He slammed a low, screaming drive off the 11th tee and the ball struck and killed two blackbirds that were feeding close together on the fairway.

Texas, 78, Charged With Fatal Beating Of Granddaughter

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (U)—A 78-year-old man was charged with murder Wednesday night after beating his 9-year-old granddaughter to death with a hammer because "she was making too much noise."

Robert Wallace told Asst. Dist. Atty. A. A. Alexander and Police Chief O. C. Beard that he smashed Frances Jean Wallace's skull as she sat coloring pictures. He said she had been "singing and hollering" while he was trying to sleep. The child was struck some 20 times.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn

W. Wallace, were at work. Relatives said the grandfather recently had attempted suicide.

Safety First Fails To Observe Rules

CHECOTAH, Okla. (U)—The Oklahoma highway patrol said today that motorists who follow the rules of Safety First will be given traffic tickets.

The warning was issued after Trooper A. H. Freney spotted a car driving without lights on U.S. 69, two miles south of here.

When Freney caught up with the motorist he asked to see his driver's license. The motorist was identified as Safety First, Tulsa, Okla.

Cold Chicken Is Good Variety of Ways

Creamed Soup or Salad Receive Tang From Stuffed Olives

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Simmer a nice fat hen on top of the range one warm-weather morning, is our advice. It gives you such a comfortable feeling to know you have cold chicken on hand in the refrigerator for salad or sandwiches. Season the water in which you cook the bird with an onion, a few celery tops, a carrot, salt, peppercorns, a bay leaf and a couple of whole cloves. Not too much water, mind; you want a good rich stock. Use the stock for a fine cream of chicken soup.

Your chicken sandwiches will taste perfect if they are made with fresh white bread, crisp lettuce and old-fashioned homemade cooked salad dressing. (It use to be called boiled dressing—remember?) Or serve perfect club sandwiches—sliced chicken, crisply cooked bacon, sliced garden-fresh tomatoes, lettuce and mayonnaise piled between slices of toast. Green olives are a must with either sandwich put them in tiny lettuce cups at the sides of the plates.

Green olives—the punient-stuffed kind—also give tang to our chicken salad and special cream of chicken soup. With the chicken salad serve tiny hot cheese rolls and iced or hot coffee. (Nice for a few friends who are coming in to lunch and to play a round of bridge.) The hot soup makes a good starter for a company supper whose main course is ham.

COMPANY CHICKEN SALAD

Ingredients: 2½ cups diced cooked chicken, 1 cup diced celery, ½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives, 2 tablespoons French dressing, 1½ cup mayonnaise, ½ cup chopped blanched toasted almonds, lemon wedges, tomato wedges, additional sliced pimiento-stuffed olives, salad greens, additional French dressing (if desired).

Method: Mix chicken, celery, ½ cup sliced olives, 2 tablespoons French dressing and mayonnaise. Chill. Just before serving, mix in toasted almonds. Garnish with lemon and tomato wedges, additional sliced olives and salad greens. Additional French dressing may be passed if desired. Makes 4 servings.

CHICKEN AND OLIVE CREAM SOUP

Ingredients: 1 quart rich well-seasoned chicken stock, ¼ cup finely diced celery, 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup light cream or top milk, ½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives, salt, pepper.

Method: Heat chicken stock and celery to boiling. Add cream to flour gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition. Stir into chicken stock. Cook and stir constantly until slightly thickened, and boiling. Add olives and salt and pepper to taste. Serve very hot. Makes about 5 cups.

Note: A generous dash of pure monosodium glutamate will help give flavor to the chicken stock.

Mother in Galion Receives Degree Despite Obstacles

GALION — Her college education interrupted by teaching, marriage and motherhood, Mrs. Maud Carey of Galion has now completed four years of study and will receive her degree at Bowling Green State University Friday.

A few weeks after she has received her degree she will see her daughter, Gretchen, 18, a 1955 Galion High School graduate, begin her higher educational training when she enrolls in Lima Memorial Hospital for a nurse's training course.

Before she ever started her college education, Mrs. Carey worked for a couple of years after graduation in 1929 from Port Matilda High School, Pa. Enrolling in Pennsylvania State University in 1931, she completed enough work to begin teaching in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. After her marriage in 1936, she stopped teaching to become a housewife and later a mother. It was not until 1945, when Gretchen was 8 years old, that Mrs. Carey resumed teaching. Since that time she has been a grade school teacher in the Tiro schools. This year she has been assigned to the second grade in the new addition of the school. Last winter she received an eight-year professional certificate.

In addition to her training at Pennsylvania State University, Mrs. Carey has had courses at Ohio State University and Bowling Green State University. She has had two extension courses and spent the last three summers at Bowling Green.

Sister M. Margaret is the Superior of the Sisters of St. Francis in Carey and her assistants are Sister M. Anselma, Sister M. Jude and Sister M. Maria.

Plastic for Home Now Leveling Off

CHICAGO (UP) — Plastic is "over the crest" as a furniture material and is "merely holding its own now," one industry source says.

"There was a lot of plastic at the summer furniture markets, in upholstery as well as chest and table tops," he said, "but no more than you saw in previous shows." The furniture market spokesman attributed this fact partly to the development of chemical treatments for upholstery which last through several dry cleanings. "These give the same washable qualities as plastic, but retain the fabric texture," he explained. He said the returning emphasis on natural wood grains also has cut the demand for the opaque finishes of plastic case goods. But he predicted that plastic or plastic-treated chest and table tops will remain in demand because they resist stains and are washable.

Operator of Restaurant Says Business Is Good

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Bill Rothe doesn't believe in crabbing about business, and he's talked a lot of other people out of the habit, too. Rothe took a real ribbing when he ordered 1,000 buttons reading, "Business is GOOD." Waitresses in his restaurant wore them and passed them out to customers. Rothe's private optimism campaign has paid off, he says, and he's on his third order of one thousand buttons.

Salesmen and clerks report that customers are impressed and that what they thought would be a good joke has proven a business asset. "Business is all right," Rothe said, "But you've got to go after it. . . . I got tired of listening to the moans of pessimists and decided to do something about it."

Special Reason

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (UP) — Percival (Whitey) Adams, straw boss of crews weaving steel into a 100-mile dollar bridge across the Straits of Mackinac, has a special reason for hoping his record of "never having lost a man" holds on this job. One of Whitey's crewmen is his 19-year-old son, an engineering student on vacation from college.

'Operation Boredom' Launched in Germany

Army Sends Wives Into Field With GIs

By MARGARET KROHN

MUNICH (NANA) — The U. S. Army has developed its own rough-and-ready answer to the perennial problem of the dog-tired husband and the bored housewife. Get the gals out in the field and let them see what the old man has to contend with, says the Army.

The 25th Field Artillery Battalion tried this solution, and its husbands are the envy of the European Command. A more docile group of wives you've never seen. At first it all sounded like a lark, and the girls tumbled over each other signing up for a try at field training with their husbands. Some wives seemed to think it would be just like those African safaris you read about—complete with portable bathtubs and martinis every afternoon at five.

BUT THE ARMY which prides itself on never confusing chivalry with military regulations, gave the gals the full treatment.

The wives braved drizzling rains for three days of field life in the gummy training areas at Grafenwoehr, within cannon shot of the Czech frontier and the spot where Rommel trained the Afrika Korps. Equipped with field glasses, the women trudged through the mud to forward observation posts. Here they watched while their husbands, synchronized the fire of all battalion guns to land simultaneously on target.

They put in more hours observing the accuracy of machinegun and howitzer fire under varying conditions.

At this point the girls, some of whom had embarked on the training exercise in gay summer dresses and high-heeled shoes, were ready to call for a truce. They learned that when you're in the Army you just don't leave a field training exercise half done.

IN RAIN AND MUD the wives were escorted to battalion firing missions. While their grinning mates busied themselves computing data and firing the 155-millimeter howitzers, the gals critically noted that there wasn't a beauty parlor within miles.

It was probably just a coincidence, but the battalion with the rain-drenched wives topped high score in V Corps Battalion firing tests.

So it went for three days. Rain or shine, the wives ate field rations with their husbands out of Army mess kits and slept under canvas. It may sound brutal, but it worked.

As the Army dryly observed at the close of the exercise, "despite gaining a new insight into their husbands' work and a new respect for their duties, at the end of three days of eating in the open, rain or shine, and living under canvas, the wives were ready to leave field life to the men."

MRS. JACK J. KRON, wife of the battalion commander was more succinct: "If I ever have to sit down again, I hope it's on something soft."

The problem of the bored wife is no jesting matter with the Army in Europe. The gals are in a strange land in which everything they do seems to be wrong. Since mounds come dirt cheap in Germany, almost every Army wife takes on one or two of these "bargains." It is a custom going back to the occupation, when every family was furnished a maid.

The Army's efficient logistical arrangements have centralized shopping, usually in a single barracks. And the Army discourages purchasing of food on the German market. So there is little wasted feminine energy here.

Extensive shopping forays into German cities are restricted by the distance (most American military families are billeted in "Little Americas" on the edge of town) and funds (a sergeant's pay doesn't stretch far in a smart German shop).

Since most wives don't speak German and are remote from the German community even if they did, they are almost entirely dependent on other Army wives for social life.

SO WHAT DO the wives do? Most of them play bridge and are bored. They live each day for while away the tedious hours. The five o'clock when hubby comes Army hopes so.

home. And if hubby is late, or if the Army has a field mission for him, the wife is irate.

An evening out is usually not much by cafe society standards. It usually consists of going to the Officers' Club or an Army motion picture show, both of which may be located in the barracks where hubby works. And of course there you see the same old faces—and you are bored all over again.

"It's a tough problem—for the Army, for the husband, not least, for the little woman."

So the Army is trying out its own version of "Ladies Day," when the gals are taken out to the training fields or to the barracks to learn their husbands' problems. Maybe it will help them when the gals are taken out to the training fields or to the barracks to learn their husbands' problems.

Spread-the-Work Programs Started

Industry Counters GAW By Stabilization of Jobs

By STANLEY KLIGFELD
NEW YORK (NANA) — Memo to workers: bosses are making new efforts to set production at their factories on a smooth, even pace the year around.

The purpose, of course, is to minimize lay offs at some times of the year, avoid heavy overtime periods at others. At the same time, many bosses admit frankly that institution of such scheme, called "job stabilization," can clip demands by unions for further spread of the so-called guaranteed annual wage.

Right now, job stabilization schemes are being set up both at companies which make highly seasonal items such as Christmas tree decorations and such year-round staples such as typewriter ribbons and nails.

In this city, a big Christmas card manufacturer claims as a result of job stabilization his plant now turns out the work at about the same pace throughout the year. The cards are stored in a rented warehouse until the big year-end Christmas buying rush develops. By contrast, most Christmas card makers traditionally take it easy in the early months of the year, work their crews overtime as the year-end rush appears.

MANY COMPANIES, of course, shy away completely from spread-the-production job stabilization schemes. Some of these say they don't think the warehousing costs of building up large off-season inventories would be worth while for their products. And there are those that don't think job stabilization would work well in their lines for other reasons.

Here and there, as part of their job stabilization programs, many firms are giving workers additional responsibilities both in their own and nearby departments. A punch press operator, for example, may be required to run another machine if need be.

But bosses figure, of course, that such workers can be kept active if production letdowns temporarily cause a stoppage of their normal jobs.

BUT BOSSES planning on such programs face many hurdles, particularly from unions. The unions' policy generally is to prohibit, let's say, a milling machine operator from operating a lathe.

Even so, one large corporation now reports that at a handful of smaller plants many employees are permitted by their unions to do other chores when output sags.

In this city, an important executive testified that in some cases he's been able to shift production workers into maintenance work on the firm's own properties when they are temporarily shut down.

"We used to job out the chore of dismantling outmoded equipment," he said, "but we now do it ourselves."

Lyndon Johnson Recovering From Heart Attack

Senate Leader Fighting for Comeback

By MARY MCGRODY

WASHINGTON (NANA)—Senate Majority leader Lyndon Johnson is coming back from the heart attack that laid him low on July 3 in typical fashion. That is to say, he is working hard at it, he's organized, and he's overlooking no bet.

The downstairs of his Washington home looks like the headquarters of a modest political campaign. The dining room table is strewn with papers, and there, as in the living room, a secretary is busy at a typewriter. They're making up lists of the fat-free diet the senator has currently pledged himself to.

Upstairs in his air-conditioned bedroom, the big senator from Texas is being something of a model patient. A man who has been in his own words, "In a hurry all my life," he is learning to slow down. Told he must rest, he conscientiously does so every afternoon from one to four. Told a good weight for his six-foot-plus would be between 175 and 185 pounds, he has set his goal at 179. He is just three pounds away from it.

"A CARDINAL Johnson principle has always been to get the best advice available and then to follow it," says the party leader who has never made any secret of the fact that in the Senate he always "touched base" with senators Richard Russell and Walter George of Georgia before taking action. He is looking lean, rested and moderately tanned from daily sun-lamp treatments. There are books all over the room—Plato's Republic, Machiavelli's "The Prince" and "The Low Fat, Low Cholesterol Diet" among them—and the senator is taking the unusual opportunity to do a little reading. Before, he's generally relied on men rather than books for his information.

It would perhaps be too much to say that the senator is finding sweet the uses of adversity, but there have been advantages.

"I've got acquainted with my family," he says, and, indicating his handsome wife, "Ladybird here says she loves me better than ever."

NOT EXACTLY sentimental, the senator from Texas is nonetheless one of those politicians for whom mere power has never been completely satisfying. He likes to be liked, too. And the great outpouring of letters, telegrams and messages, not just from the high and the mighty but also from ordinary citizens and fellow sufferers, has meant a great deal to him.

"Everybody loves Lyndon, I found out," he says with a grin. "One of the first things he is likely to tell a visitor these days about his experience is, 'you realize how many good people there are in the world.'"

And the next thing: "Nobody run out and left me."

By way of illustration, he tells about his 74-year-old mother, who had never been on a plane in her life. She was told the day he was stricken that her son might not live and asked if she would fly to his bedside. She would, he said, but she had one request: "Let's pretend like we are on the ground." He is obviously much touched by the tributes paid to him on the Senate floor. All but one or two of his 96 colleagues in the Senate wrote to him, some by hand, and their loving, prayerful letters are carefully preserved in a big scrapbook. In another volume are letters from the President, from Cabinet members and from labor leaders, some of whom had at one time called for Johnson's scalp.

AS FOR THE outpourings in the Senate, the senator says with obvious gratification, "Dick Russell (senator from Georgia) said it was the only time they did it in life."

Senator Johnson, all through the perilous night of his attack was very close to death. His blood pressure went down to 40. After the ambulance brought him from a friend's country home in Bethesda medical center, and he knew what was the matter with him, he did not panic. He was, in the words of an admiring associate, "as bossy as ever." He asked the doctor for three minutes to see three people. They were Felton Johnson, secretary of the Senate, George Reedy, his executive assistant, and Ladybird, his wife.

"I told Skeeter Johnson to call (Senator) Earle Clements in Kentucky where he was campaigning to tell him that if I lived I would not be back this session," said the senator. "I didn't want there to be any question about who was leader of the Senate. I told Reedy to call the wire services and tell them I had a heart attack, moderately severe. Don't tell them I'm in here for a rest or a check up; tell them the truth—I've just hit the cold water a belly-buster. I said to Ladybird, 'Honey, here is my money-clip; you may need some. I think we're going to lick this thing. My will is down in your general manager's desk in Austin. Do one thing for me, get me the best heart specialist in this country.'"

ALL THIS WAS done in just under three minutes. To use up his time, he asked for one last cigarette. He got it, and hasn't smoked since. Then he said to his doctor: "I'm ready to go now." "You know you're going to live," Johnson says now. "You know this is just a warning you are on notice there is a limit to what you can do."

Senator Johnson had two spells of extreme depression after his attack. Now he's just looking ahead. One of the things that has pleased him is an avalanche of some 7,000 letters from 41 states, many of them from people, who, he says, want to encourage him.

One man wrote him and said, "Don't let this thing throw you. My mammy is 94, had this condition since she was 44. She's fine, and you will be, too."

Whether or not the tall Texan will come back as majority leader in January is a matter yet to be decided—by his doctors at a show-down conference in Atlanta in December. Meanwhile, the Johnson staff and household is gearing itself for a safari to Texas, to be headed by the senator, Mrs. Johnson and his doctor next Thursday by plane. The Johnsons will go to their Johnson City ranch, to be "so shiftless so lazy, so trifling." He's been cleared for dove-hunting next month, with deer-hunting to follow. The staff will be established in Austin, 50 miles away.

IF HE DOES come back as majority leader, the senator made it plain, he's going to want plenty of help. For one thing, he intends to "let someone else watch 'em." By which he means he will not be ranging restlessly around the Senate floor unremittently from noon until adjournment.

He hopes to get a hand with the work he has been doing, which among the Republicans is divided among four men. He has combined the chores of floor leader, committee on committees, conference and policy. Not seeing so many people will be quite a problem for the gregarious, communicative Johnson, who loves to keep in touch with everyone at all times.

"You act like a damn big shot when you play hard to get," he says. "You want people to think FACES DISMISSAL. Airman 3 C Stephen Branzovich, of Farrell, Pa., said he will fight the U. S. Air Force's attempt to give him a dishonorable discharge. He faces dismissal from the Air Force Reserve as a security risk because his father was a Communist. A hearing is scheduled for Aug. 30.

if they want you, you want them." Senator Johnson says he may be back in the "back row with (New York Senator Herbert) Lehman" when he returns, but he obviously doesn't think so.

"I'VE ALWAYS HAD to be up against odds," he says persuasively. He recalls his first congressional race, in which he triumphed over eight other candidates. He had a setback in 1941 in his first senatorial fight (Roosevelt was in sisting I run, and like the country girl, I finally consented." In 1948, he won by 87 votes. And in 1953 when he became the youngest minority leader of the Senate since 1783, "My liberal friends were meeting trying to decide who they could elect besides me, they had everything but the votes."

"They thought it was going to be an oil gas, Dixiecrat Senate. But I think I can honestly say I never sought to use the Senate to advance the interests of the party to which I owe allegiance. I never felt I should turn the Senate into a smoke-filled campaign room, or that 96 senators should be turned into precinct captains. The way some people think they should."

Firemen's Wages Showing Increases

CHICAGO (UP)—The average U.S. city of more than 10,000 population employs 131 firemen for every 1,000 inhabitants and pays them better than it used to.

These statistics were compiled by the International City Manager's Association for the 1955 Municipal Year Book.

They show that the average minimum and maximum salaries of firemen have risen in all U.S. cities of more than 10,000 population.

In 1954 the median annual entrance salary of firemen ranged from a high of $3,930 in cities of more than 500,000 to $3,300 for cities between 10,000 and 25,000. This compares with 1950 salaries of $3,077 and $2,496 in these population groups.

Firemen have worked an average of 72 hours a week in all cities of more than 10,000 population since 1947.

Currently, the association said, a fireman's work-week ranges from 60 hours in cities of more than 500,000 to 72 hours for cities from 10,000 to 25,000.

A total of 87 cities cut the work week last year.

Unofficial Language

NEW DELHI (A)—There will be no president hotel or republic theater in India. It's now against the law to use any word with an official connotation in connection with a business, trade or profession.

The object of the regulation, said an announcement, was to prevent "unscrupulous" persons from misleading customers by using terms which might indicate official patronage.

Around-the-Clock Job
Pipeline Workers Here Keep Check on Flow of Oil
 Keeping tabs on millions of gallons of different kinds of refined petroleum products flowing through hundreds of miles of underground pipe is an around-the-clock job for employees in the Marion office of the Sinclair Pipe Line Co.
 Located at 341 Mt. Vernon Ave., this is the headquarters for and controls operations of the company's entire Eastern Division pipe line system extending from East Chicago, Ind., to the East Coast. From a communications desk in a second floor room of the local office, dispatchers send out instructions directing the destinations, time of departure and arrival and the quantities of different shipments or tenders of petroleum products.
INSTRUCTIONS of the dispatchers are based on hourly reports relayed to them by operators of the many pumping and terminal stations in the division. From these reports, the dispatchers can accurately calculate the arrival time of the product at its destination. By these calculations, the dispatcher knows exactly where the tender is at all times and is able to direct it to its final terminal which may be Toledo, Detroit, Columbus, Cleveland or any of many other cities to the east.
 Company officials point out that the pipe line operates continuously and certain visual aids are used to help the dispatchers see at a glance where each tender is in each segment of the pipe line system.
 A special board covers an entire wall in the dispatcher's office. The dispatcher faces this board at all times while on duty at the communications desk. Each product in

Blind Italian Sculptor Learns Subjects by Use of Fingertips
 ROME (UP) — One evening several years ago, Ernesto Masuelli went down into the cellar of his apartment building on the Via La Spezia, and picked up the lump of clay from the modeling board.
 As he had done so many times before, he stood there in the darkness, his sensitive fingers kneading the clay to a softness and warmth. He was suddenly possessed by a strange fever and excitement. He worked steadily with the clay, shaping it into the form he willed with a strange confidence and sureness of touch he had never felt before.
 That night what he had accomplished was many-fold: years of bitterness, suffering and hard work brushed aside, years of prayers, dreams, toil were climaxed in what he had achieved on the moulding board before him.
 He had sculptured a face of a Christ, a suffering and sad but beautiful face which he could only feel and know under the touch of his sensitive fingers — for Ernesto Masuelli was blind.
Little Known
 Of Masuelli little is known outside his circle of friends and admirers. In the world of art he is perhaps less known, but slowly since his "Un Christu Amaro" people began to take notice of this courageous sculptor.
 Masuelli was born at Monferrato of northern Italy in the year 1898. Son of well-to-do parents, his life was uneventful and quiet. He was shy and even a little timid despite his tall and handsome build.
 When he was 17 World War I broke out. He volunteered and rose to the rank of lieutenant in the infantry. One morning in November, 1915, he was severely wounded by a grenade, two pieces of steel penetrated his eyes. From that moment on Masuelli was blind.
 For years he went from hospital to hospital being treated for the other wounds he suffered, for hundreds of small pieces of steel had ripped into his body. In one of the hospitals he met his beautiful wife-to-be, Sarina Nathan. She was a nurse of the Italian Red Cross.
 The story of their meeting and of their love at first sight is now only his to remember, for three months ago Sarina died from an incurable heart disease. They were married in 1921, and a boy and a girl was born to them.
 All through the years Sarina encouraged and aided her blind husband. It was she who instructed him, criticized and admired his work when she had finally convinced and inspired him to take up sculpturing.
National Acclaim
 There is not much more to tell about Masuelli. Soon his work will get national acclaim. He has sculptured many remarkable and beautiful works since his face of Christ. To do this he learned to feel the faces of friends and children who volunteered to pose. From the touch of his by now super-sensitive fingers he could recreate their images in clay. So adept and sure did he become that from a small medal of the Duca d'Aosta he sculptured a life-like bust.

 Since Sarina died, Ernesto Masuelli has worked even harder and longer hours. He is sad but not bitter; he has his children to comfort him. And soon his most recent work will be finished.
 It will adorn a tomb in Rome's Verano Cemetery — Sarina's tomb. Here Ernesto Masuelli will lovingly place a bust of her — a bust he has fashioned of a face he never saw but knew only through his fingertips.

Parents Adding Restrictions as Crimes Go Up
NEW YORK (UP) — Parents grow tougher on their children, as juvenile crime goes higher. The head of the Youth Research Institute of New York says that teen-agers who never have had a run-in with the law have a new gripe these days. They complain they suffer every time a juvenile crime is reported in their community, because parents get stricter. "Every time I put on lipstick, my mother says I'm headed for delinquency," a 14-year-old Topeka, Kas., girl told the Institute. "I wish they wouldn't play up juvenile delinquency so much," said a teen-age boy in Augusta, Me. "My pop hits the ceiling when he reads one of those headlines." The head of the Institute, Lester Rand, said his interviewers talk with about 30,000 teen-agers each year to determine their thinking on various problems. Earlier Hours Rand said that parents, in trying to keep their children outside the widening circle of delinquency, are becoming increasingly "hard" on the youngsters, and the teen-agers feel their elders are going to extremes. "I used to stay up until midnight on Saturday nights," a 16-year-old San Francisco girl said. "But with all this delinquency talk, I have to do lots of holler-ing to stay out until 11:30. Now, my mother wants to make it 11. How ridiculous can you get?" A 17-year-old boy in Miami, Fla., told Rand, "I had the family chariot all lined up for the school dance when a couple of teen-agers stole a car and ran over a cop. enough to take care of themselves." "Blue jeans now are now taboo for us," a 16-year-old Cleveland girl said. "Our mothers won't let us wear them at all because they make us look too tough." The new discipline has not revived spanking. Rand said parents seem to feel that teen-agers are too old for such punishment and that the withholding of privileges is a stronger weapon. The crow is the wildest of all the birds. In the olden times the crow was termed a bird of evil omen because of its black plumage.

Blue Jeans Out
Rand said parents seem to be tightening the controls in several ways—by insisting on earlier curfew for the children, by screening their friends more carefully, keeping a more thorough check on the youngsters' daily activities, cutting their allowances and putting new curbs on dating. "But many of the youngsters resent this," said Rand. "They feel they are mature

Battelle Director's View

Efficiency of Research Is Increased by Teamwork

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — Dr. Clyde Williams, head of one of the world's largest independent research laboratories, says science is using teamwork to get more out of today's research dollar.

The president and director of Battelle Memorial Institute here said that the team approach, perfected in the past few decades, is the greatest step forward yet made in solving research problems. Teamwork brings together many different kinds of specialists to work on a single problem.

Williams recalled one of his organization's own recent projects to make his point.

Thomas Edison, he said, spent $140,000 working alone just to develop the first carbonized thread lamp filament and to find the best natural fiber for it.

In contrast, Battelle chemists, metallurgists, physicists and engineers, working in organized teams, solved the complex problem of breakage of oil well drill pipe with the expenditure of but $20,000.

The problem, he said, had cost the industry millions of dollars annually and was long considered practically unsolvable. The entire cost of the Battelle research, however, was recovered by drilling contractors in less than one week of normal drilling operations.

"Battelle Technical Review," a Williams outlined the plans which research administrators have for increasing the efficiency of research in a recent talk before a group of investment officers of life insurance companies. His study is scheduled to appear in the "Battelle Technical Review," a scientific journal circulated to American and European scientists.

HERE'S HOW research administrators expect to make research more efficient, Williams said:

1. Find ways to help research workers increase their productivity.
2. Make research even more effective in solving industrial problems.
3. Decrease the time interval between the starting of a project and its completion.
4. Eliminate a large percentage of the projects that don't pay off in corporate profits.

PRECISION DISPLAY. Two thousand troops go through cadence drill in Olympic Stadium, Caracas, as Venezuela celebrated 145th anniversary of its independence from Spain.

5. Solve, incidentally, critical problems of manpower supply.

Companies sometimes find the cost too high to set up their own research facilities for a particular problem, so they contract with organizations such as Battelle to solve the problem. This is called "contract research" and is another recent development to step up research efficiency.

Williams said the day is past when companies boasted that only one in 10 or 15 of their research projects paid off financially.

"The aim today is to eliminate, insofar as possible, the projects that don't pay off," he said.

RESEARCH administrators use mathematical means to determine if a project will pay off, and they plan ahead to use only those projects best calculated to be successful.

Administrators don't overlook the individual scientists themselves, Williams said. The scientists are being provided with adequate technical, clerical and stenographic assistance.

Psychologists are called upon to increase the efficiency of research scientists, too, Williams said.

"Creativity is a capacity that everyone has to some degree, although few of us ever utilize more than a small fraction of our latent abilities," he explained.

Williams told how Battelle tries to stimulate creativity among its staff by holding informal group meetings "merely for letting imaginations run wild."

Williams said public acceptance of research "is creating pressure for increased research..." He credits the journalistic and advertising professions with doing "A good job of selling science to the general public."

Chic Wife of Aga Khan Now Is Faithful Moslem

CANNES, France—(UP)—Yvette Labrousse, who started in the public eye as "Miss France" and wound up as the Begum Aga Khan, is a faithful Moslem.

What is she like—this woman who is married to one of the world's wealthiest men?

She is the product of a good bourgeois family in Lyon. She is the picture of chic. Of majestic carriage, with beautiful dark hair and an oval face, she dresses simply and elegantly.

IT WAS HER brunette beauty which in 1930 won her the "Miss France" title, queen of the bathing beauties.

Fourteen years later, she met and married the fabulous Aga, 30 years her senior, and spiritual leader of an estimated 40,000,000 Ismaili Moslems in India, East Africa and Asia.

In 1944 she embraced the Moslem religion and was re-christened "Ome Habiba," which is the name of Mahomet's last wife and means in Arabic "Mother of the well-beloved."

Last year the Begum made the difficult and arduous pilgrimage to Mecca which each good Moslem is required to make at least once.

Dressed in the cotton gown of the pilgrim, and barefoot as the law requires, she carried out each of the required rites for five blistering days when the temperature never sank below 118 degrees in the shade.

Th aging Aga Khan never has made the pilgrimage and it seems unlikely his health will permit him to make it now in the prescribed summer season.

IF THE BEGUM had her way she would spend most of her time in the magnificent villa the Aga Khan has built for her at Cannes, in the hills overlooking the Riviera. Cannes. It is called "Yakimour," a contraction of "Yakimour," the Aga's pet name for his fourth wife, and "amour" the French word for love.

The cream-colored house, with its terraced gardens, its swimming pool and its period furniture and works of art, is air-conditioned.

When she is at home, the Begum rises at 11 a.m. She says the secret of health and beauty is plenty of sleep.

She lunches with the Aga and usually, in the early afternoon, the Begum takes a drive at the wheel of her black Citroen, while her husband rests.

From time to time she visits an old people's home she has founded or drops in to see retired artists and other old friends, many of whom are partially or wholly supported by her.

She also is an amateur photographer and has recently taken up both sculpture and painting.

AMONG THE Begum's friends on the Riviera is the Aga Khan's third wife Andree Caron whom he divorced "amicably" in 1943.

The Aga Khan—43rd direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed—first married his cousin Shahr while in his 20's and later repudiated her under Moslem law.

In 1908, he married the Italian dancer Teresa Magliana, mother of the Prince Aly Khan. She died in 1926 of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The first of May, the couple leaves Cannes for London—for the British Derby—then it is to Paris for the horse racing season at Longchamps and Auteuil, a short stay at the fashionable northern bathing resort of Deauville, several weeks in Aix-les-Bains, where he takes the water cure, and the end of the summer is spent in Switzerland.

In September, they return to Yakimour but in November go on to Egypt to spend the winter.

They also own stables in three countries, a suite in the Ritz Hotel in London, a villa at Deauville, and a place just outside Paris.

Her favorite colors in dress are green, cream and pearl grey and she says simplicity is the key to beauty in dress. She has this advice to offer:

"Be simple. Avoid all that strikes the eye harshly. Wear neutral colors and above all make sure that the cut of whatever you wear is good—this is the secret of real elegance."

Her jewels reportedly are valued at more than $2,857,000 and were the lure for a daring band of robbers in 1949 who held up the Aga and his wife in their car one night and stole $600,000 worth of jewelry from the Begum, including the famous marquise diamond.

Most of the jewelry later was mysteriously returned to the Mar-seilles police.

Widow, 92, 'Just Up and Went' On 20,000-Mile African Jaunt

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — Mrs. Sarah Johnson, 92, traveled 20,000 miles "just out of curiosity" to visit the site of her late husband's missionary work in southern Africa.

Mrs. Johnson, now back at her home here, appeared surprised that her friends could be shocked by her making such a long journey at her age.

"Why," she said, "I just up and went, that's all."

She is the widow of Eben S. Johnson, who, as Methodist prelate, was in charge of a vast territory across the tip of South Africa from Mozambique to Portuguese West Africa from 1917 to 1936.

Bishop Johnson died in Portland in 1939 and Mrs. Johnson embarked on the trip to Africa as a sort of "pilgrimage" to honor his memory.

She found that many natives in the Capetown area, where her visit was centered, remembered her and her husband. They showed her with handmade gifts, including crocheted dollies and beadwork.

She said she found many changes on her visit, but none so great as those she and her husband saw in their 20 years in Africa.

"When we were there," Mrs. Johnson said, "East Africans thought twin babies were bad luck and one must be destroyed. Today, twins are often welcome in native Christian families."

One of the changes most appreciated by the missionary's wife

First Infantry Division Closes 13-Year Tour

FORT RILEY, Kan. (UP) — It'll be November before all of the First Infantry Division is fully established at Fort Riley, ending a 13-year tour overseas.

But the "Big Red One" may be said to be on its way home, swapping places with the 10th Infantry Division, whose units now are on the way to Germany.

The First goes back quite a piece. One of its units, D Battery of the Fifth Field Artillery Battalion, was founded in 1776 by Alexander Hamilton.

One thing the First is used to is being the first to go overseas and the last to return. It happened in the first world war. In World War II, the First fought in North Africa, Sicily, Normandy, Hurtgen Forest, Aachen, the Rhineland, and western Czechoslovakia. Then it spent 10 years in the western defenses, up against the Iron Curtain.

The "Big Red One" will spread over Fort Riley's flint hills in central Kansas the same way the 10th did. It will play soccer, which it added to its sports program during 13 years overseas.

Maj. Gen. G. S. Meloy Jr., a Korean war veteran, will bring the division home.

It was the First that told the Pentagon it needed no additional time to get ready to fight. The day was Dec. 7, 1941. It was alerted for the West Coast but went to Europe instead.

"We'll get off the train fighting," said the First's commander at that time.

One of the employees, Mrs. Etta Ramsell, is retiring this year after serving Harvard since 1908.

Four Persons Injured In Crestline Collision

CRESTLINE — Four people were in Crestline Emergency Hospital today following a traffic accident at 8:10 p.m. Wednesday 1.7 miles west of Crestline on Route 30-N.

Injured in the two-car head-on collision were Mrs. Mary L. Gerster of Crestline and three-month-old son, Jeffrey Allen Gerster, and Helen Erb, 25, and Theodore Erb, 28, of Wapakoneta. Drivers of the two cars, Norman Gerster, 25, and Thomas Erb, 23, did not need hospitalization.

Mrs. Gerster suffered head and face lacerations and the baby had severe bruises. The others admitted for treatment suffered head and face lacerations.

The Bucyrus post of the highway patrol reported the Erb car was going east and the Gerster car west. Driver of the Wapakoneta car was cited to appear before Mayor Nelson Lee of Crestline at 11 a.m. today for "unsafe operation of a vehicle."

Service Scheduled For Paul D. Hoch, Former Marionite

GALION — Funeral services for Paul D. Hoch, 48, of Galion, will be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the Snyder Funeral Home. Rev. Herbert S. Garges Jr. of First Lutheran Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mr. Hoch was found dead at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the garage at his home, about a half mile south of Galion, by his wife, Carrie. Dr. B. P. Mansfield, Crawford County coroner, said Hoch took his own life and died of a head wound inflicted by a shotgun. Death occurred about 10 minutes before his wife found him.

Employed as a welder for Carl Weithman, local building contractor, Hoch had remained home Wednesday because his wife had planned to enter Galion Community Hospital as a patient later in the day, the coroner said.

A native of Hancock County, Hoch was born Dec. 22, 1906, a son of Charles D. and Maggie C. Hamlin Hoch. He was married in 1924 to Carrie Grogg who survives with one son, Robert D. Hoch of Galion; one granddaughter; one sister, Mrs. Wallace E. Smith of Marion; and one brother, Charles H. Hoch of Galion. His parents who formerly lived in the Windfall community, northwest of Galion, and two brothers, preceded him in death.

Hoch had lived in Galion for 34 years, coming here from Marion.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1955

The City's 1956 Budget

The submission and approval by the Marion City Council of a 1956 budget that anticipates a $113,000 deficit caused by an expected $118,000 operating loss at the new Marion General Hospital should be studied carefully by every Marion citizen. But it should not be cause for undue alarm at this time.

From the standpoint of municipal solvency the $113,000 "deficit" is somewhat misleading if not understood. Cities are prevented by law from expending more than their income, and consequently Marion isn't going to wind up next year $113,000 "in the hole."

Something must be done to close the gap between income and outgo, whether it be a tightening of the belt up and down the line or some new method of increasing the revenue, such as a city income tax, an operating levy or a sewer tax.

As far as the anticipated $118,000 operating loss at the hospital is concerned, it was arrived at by projecting the hospital's receipts and expenditures for the first six months of its operation. In doing this council used the only possible approach, knowing that on the basis of a full year the hospital probably will not finish on the wrong side of the ledger by as much as $118,000.

The expenses at a new institution in the early months of its operation are always far in excess of what later can be termed "normal," and it will be many months before the true financial outlook for the hospital on a long-term basis can be obtained.

The budget does point up quite clearly a fact that becomes increasingly apparent with the passing of each day—that Marion's obligations and needs steadily are outstripping its income and that some major move must be made fairly soon to increase the revenue.

B & B Unionism

John L. Lewis, who used to make the nation's flesh creep with his ruthless collective bargaining, has quietly negotiated a new contract for northern members of United Mine Workers granting a $2 a day increase.

The public knew nothing about it until it was sealed, signed and delivered. There was no sparring in the press, no ugly recriminations, no strangleholds on politicians in Washington, no threat of property seizure—just an announcement out of the blue that peace has been secured for another long term in the soft coal industry by raising wages from a basic daily rate of $18.25 to $20.25.

What has happened to Lewis and his bluster? What has happened to the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. and its hard bargainers who used to lock horns with a fulminating Lewis every time a contract expired?

The answer is statistical. Bituminous production is bumping along at a level uncomfortably close to that of 25 years ago—a little more than half of the production total reached in 1947—the all-time peak.

Although coal is in growing demand by the electric power industry, its use is shrinking in all other quarters, except the steel industry—the principal market for coal mined by members of the Lewis union. The power industry, for obvious reasons, never let itself be at the mercy of a bargainer as ruthless as John Lewis used to be when he could make or break the nation's entire economy with his power to call and sustain strikes. It is relatively independent of United Mine Workers.

Lewis doesn't have absolute power any more. His power now is relative to the weakness of the coal industry. Miners have reverted to bread-and-butter unionism.

They would rather eat than strike.

Stabilized Purchasing Power

The consumer price index reached 114.7 in July, exactly where it stood in July, 1953, and again in September, 1954.

During the entire year of 1953, the average index stood at 114-plus. After going to 115-plus for a few months in 1954, the index settled back to the level in the last four months of 1954 and has remained there continuously for the last 11 months.

Unless there is unexpected price inflation the rest of this year, it seems likely the 1955 average for all 12 months will be well below 115, marking the third full year in the 114-plus range.

This would mean that the purchasing power of the dollar had been stabilized at a little more than 85 per cent of its purchasing power in 1947-1949, the theoretical base of 100 per cent.

The statistics are meaningful in a political sense, because they reflect the success being scored by an administration whose principal promise was financial stability, together with a return to the principles and practices of free enterprise.

The specter of runaway inflation has not been seen by apprehensive economists for a long time. Neither has the specter of an economic collapse been making American flesh creep.

No one is brash enough to believe both specters have been routed permanently. But the statistics of purchasing power and prices justify a belief that the wild ups and downs which once were believed to be unavoidable can be avoided by leadership that commands confidence.

Pawns of Communism

By David Lawrence

Every Uprising Turned Into Cold War Battle

The cold war goes on despite the professions of peaceful purpose which emanate regularly from the Communist leaders.

Lawrence

While the quarrels inside Morocco and Algeria are by no means of Communist origin, there is no question but that Communist money and scheming inside both countries has inflamed the situation.

Thus for example, the North African Liberation Committee, which has been behind these disorders, operates on Egyptian territory. The French have been well aware for some time that the Egyptian government has permitted the committee to broadcast from its territory a good deal of inflammatory propaganda directed to Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia. A Communist station in Budapest keeps up a similar line.

By promoting agitation and even sending funds and some arms to stir up trouble, the North African committee was able to synchronize the uprisings. Newsmen knew in advance of the expected disorders. It all has the markings of a carefully nurtured plot to cause embarrassment to the French.

THE REAL OBJECTIVE as it affects the Western Allies is broader. One result has been to withdraw thousands of troops from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe and another has been to imperil the American Air bases in Morocco.

A cold war to some extent has the same objectives as a hot war. The purpose is to weaken the enemy's military strength and organization.

NATO isn't as strong without the French divisions now in Africa as it would be with them. Likewise, if an atomic attack came suddenly, it is questionable whether American overseas bases wouldn't be subject to sabotage and interference by locally armed bands.

The United States does not maintain large bodies of troops overseas to guard these bases and, in an emergency, would have to divert divisions from Europe to Africa to safeguard the bases from which our bombers must take off.

IT IS TRUE, of course, that the basic issues of nationalism didn't start with the Communists, but the latter took advantage of the ferment. Even when self-rule is granted, however, troubles for the parent country do not cease. The adoption of a plan for autonomy in Tunisia was merely the prelude to the fomenting of internal dissension elsewhere in North Africa. Once there is a plan also for Algeria and Morocco, other sources of friction will be developed by the Communists.

Back of the strategy of infiltration and subversion is the idea that this form of warfare is least expensive and can pay off in actual control or intimidation of the smaller governments once they obtain their independence.

The Egyptian independence movement had Communist backing and, once the British were driven out, the Egyptian leaders found it expedient to adopt a sort of neutrality as between the East and the West.

Meanwhile, the use of Egyptian territory as a base for operations against the territory of another nation—France—does not seem to be frowned upon by the off-glorified United Nations.

THE ANTI-COLONIALISM propaganda generated by the Communists finds a certain receptiveness among those Americans who at the same time seem to ignore Communist colonialism as practiced in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia.

All these countries not only have lost their independence but have been terrorized into submission by the military power of the Red armies.

Very little is being said in America about the tragic plight of the peoples of those countries. The American instruments of propaganda abroad for the most part keep hands off for fear of offending the Communists. There is little mention of self-liberation.

INCIDENTALLY, whenever any good excuse is lacking for America's failure to exert moral force in behalf of oppressed peoples, the argument is made that "liberation" of the oppressed peoples is likely "to bring on a world war."

The events in North Africa show that the Communists are winning many sectors in the cold war while the Western countries still are lulled into complacency by the "peace offensive."

Even the brutal shooting down of an unarmed American airplane in the demilitarized zone in Korea doesn't cause any anxiety in the Kremlin because it doesn't stir any official expression of resentment here.

Small wonder the Communists pursue their "cold war" tactics so intensively.

Who's Intelligent?

By TRUMAN TWILL

It is a load off my mind to learn that a hotshot psychologist at the University of Southern California has come to a boil over misuse of the Stanford-Binet test for measuring the educational possibilities of children.

This is the famous test that separates the high IQ from the low IQ people and has been carried to foolish extremes, such as using it on adults to see which ones should be expected to surge onward and upward and which ones cannot be converted into silk purses.

As the Southern Cal hotshot, J. P. Guilford, points out, the test was never intended for use on grownups. When it's a matter of finding out who are the flashes and who are the pokes among people, there are more important things than the old-fashioned IQ to be taken into consideration when evaluating intelligence.

Although I do not know what my IQ was when tested a long time ago, I have no reason to doubt a rumor that it was close to a good golfer's score for 18 holes, which was not creditable. But I never have been bothered by this.

Drizzling is no more of a problem with me than it has turned out to be with some of the sharpest cooks—who ever soaked over the top of the grading chart when their IQ's were tested.

I can get over the ground well enough to stay out of the way of trucks and bloodhounds. No college ever has propositioned me for a teaching position because of my mental accomplishments, but if one ever had the answer would have been no—at the college pay rates which have been in fashion and still are.

I can read without moving my lips if I hold a finger against them firmly and remember that enemy eyes may be watching.

I have had no trouble understanding the direct primary, the indirect quotation, the electoral process, the double-double cross, the squeeze play, the weather reports, or anything of that general nature. On at least one occasion I grasped the Einstein theory of relativity, briefly.

My automotive record is free from stain. I can tell a joke as well as the ordinary social joke-teller, change a tire on an automobile and loosen a stuck valve.

I also can do light housework. I can carry a tune, a mortgage, or a brimming glass without mishap. Although I cannot remember my own telephone number without an effort, I can remember odds and ends of useless information acquired as much as, well, a long time ago.

Parenthood baffles and maddens me, no more than ordinary. I once learned to do a hesitation wait, to play checkers and have been known to play simple card games well enough to take home small amounts of small change.

Although I cannot speak any foreign language, I am handy enough with English to make my needs known in ordinary circumstances. I can read and enjoy printed things up to the reading level of the New York Times, have attained and maintained a good credit rating, can wash and dress myself without help and have proof of my mental mastery in the case of a dog that sometimes will lie down if it is tired and I suggest that a little rest would do it good.

Some of the highest IQ people I know of shouldn't be trusted out alone, yet every one thinks they're smart. Obviously, the whole thing is ridiculous. There's nothing for the rest of us to be ashamed of if we are down there rubbing elbows with the morons if we are happy there, is there? Del!

After the war, orders were issued to disband the Fourth Directorate. Its chief, Maj. Gen. P. A. Sudoplatov, however, persuaded his superiors that some of the principal staff officers and agents should be retained for a long-range program designed to support and direct partisan activities behind enemy lines in event of a future attack on the USSR.

Sudoplatov's recommendation was accepted. The directorate became "Bureau No. 1," with Sudoplatov continuing in command. "Bureau No. 1's" original mission was to establish key agents in areas outside the Soviet Union who would become familiar with the language, customs, politics, terrain and special problems of the areas to which they were assigned.

These agents were intended to receive and perhaps command guerrilla troops either infiltrated or parachuted into their areas during wartime. The program actually was launched in the Satellite countries, and was proposed for Western European nations. Soviet agents were dispatched to various cities to build "sleeper apparatus."

The first agents were established in Rumania in 1945, and later in Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. A group was established in Austria early in 1951 and another in Eastern Germany late the same year.

In 1951 the MVD decided to spread its sleeper net over Western Germany—and encountered difficulties. It proved too difficult to use Soviet nationals for potential guerrilla operations. So it was decided to recruit and train East Germans, who would then be sent across to establish themselves in chancellery Konrad Adenauer's federal German-republic.

SOVIET MVD officers would direct these nets from East Berlin. In event of war the Russian officers would be smuggled into West Germany to take personal charge of partisan operations behind Allied lines.

In the summer of 1952 the mission of "Bureau No. 1" was altered. The long-range guerrilla plan was abandoned. Instead, the Kremlin directed that all available agents already recruited or established should be employed for sabotage and other violent activities in Western Europe.

One agent was ordered to organize the assassination of a Russian emigre leader. Another agent was dispatched to Denmark to convince the Danish Communist party that the time was ripe for action to forestall the conversion of Denmark into an "Anglo-American" base. A special Danish group was attached at this time to the German advanced operations base of "Bureau No. 1" in Karlshorst, the Soviet military headquarters in East Berlin.

After Stalin's death there was a lull in Bureau No. 1's operations. There was criticism within the MVD that its operations, in spotting, recruiting, dispatching and communicating with agents, were wasteful duplications of other Soviet intelligence operations.

IN SEPTEMBER 1953 Sudoplatov was arrested and disappeared. "Bureau No. 1" was reorganized as the "Ninth Section." Its mission: to carry out "special action tasks" for the "Second Chief Directorate."

Offices of the Ninth Section are located in Moscow's notorious Lubyanka prison. Training is conducted at an operational base at the corner of Metrostroyevskaya and Turchanovskaya Pere Ulok, in Moscow.

Here there is a staff of instructors in small arms, jujitsu, code wireless, driving, surveillance and photography. Special weapons and explosive devices are produced by a laboratory near Kuchino, on the outskirts of Moscow. Nearby is a second laboratory which develops poisons and drugs for use in "special action tasks."

The head of the "Second Department," which supervises the "Ninth Section" is, or was as late as 1954, a man well known to official Washington—Maj. Gen. Alexander S. Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador to the United States from October 1947 until June 1952.

Evidence available indicates Panyushkin's diplomatic activity was merely a cloak for his professional secret police career.

MVD Reveals Real Soviet Intent

By Omer Anderson

FRANKFORT

The Kremlin's new friendship line has confused some Soviet officials almost as badly as it has their Western counterparts—but not the MVD, the Soviet secret police.

U. S. Intelligence reports that the MVD has remained beyond the pale of the new Russian champagne - and - caviar jollity. While U. S. and Soviet diplomats are trading pleasantries, American Intelligence is locked in a bitter subsurface war with the MVD's notorious "Ninth Section" which is sowing panic among Soviet and East European anti-Communist exiles.

American Intelligence agents privately feel that knowledge and evaluation of the operations of the "Ninth Section" might be more useful to the average Western layman in appraising Russian intentions than the copious publicity on Soviet cultural missions which is issuing from Moscow.

THE MVD is divided into two sections, or directorates. The First Directorate deals with internal Soviet security, including counter-espionage and slave labor camps.

The "second chief directorate," however, is charged with all "positive" foreign intelligence activities of the MVD, the letters standing for the "Ministry of Internal Affairs."

Under the "second Chief Directorate" is the "Ninth Section," which has responsibility for "special action tasks." This refers primarily to such activities as sabotage, assassination, kidnapping and other violent clandestine acts.

Its jurisdiction is global, but its major effort is now concentrated in Western Europe.

U. S. Intelligence's long study of Soviet terror has laid bare most of the Ninth Section's secrets.

The original predecessor of the Ninth Section was the "Fourth General Directorate" of the MVD, which conducted partisan activity behind the German lines during the war.

AFTER THE WAR, orders were issued to disband the Fourth Directorate. Its chief, Maj. Gen. P. A. Sudoplatov, however, persued his superiors that some of the principal staff officers and agents should be retained for a long-range program designed to support and direct partisan activities behind enemy lines in event of a future attack on the USSR.

Sudoplatov's recommendation was accepted. The directorate became "Bureau No. 1," with Sudoplatov continuing in command. "Bureau No. 1's" original mission was to establish key agents in areas outside the Soviet Union who would become familiar with the language, customs, politics, terrain and special problems of the areas to which they were assigned.

These agents were intended to receive and perhaps command guerrilla troops either infiltrated or parachuted into their areas during wartime. The program actually was launched in the Satellite countries, and was proposed for Western European nations. Soviet agents were dispatched to various cities to build "sleeper apparatus."

The first agents were established in Rumania in 1945, and later in Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. A group was established in Austria early in 1951 and another in Eastern Germany late the same year.

In 1951 the MVD decided to spread its sleeper net over Western Germany—and encountered difficulties. It proved too difficult to use Soviet nationals for potential guerrilla operations. So it was decided to recruit and train East Germans, who would then be sent across to establish themselves in chancellery Konrad Adenauer's federal German-republic.

SOVIET MVD officers would direct these nets from East Berlin. In event of war the Russian officers would be smuggled into West Germany to take personal charge of partisan operations behind Allied lines.

In the summer of 1952 the mission of "Bureau No. 1" was altered. The long-range guerrilla plan was abandoned. Instead, the Kremlin directed that all available agents already recruited or established should be employed for sabotage and other violent activities in Western Europe.

One agent was ordered to organize the assassination of a Russian emigre leader. Another agent was dispatched to Denmark to convince the Danish Communist party that the time was ripe for action to forestall the conversion of Denmark into an "Anglo-American" base. A special Danish group was attached at this time to the German advanced operations base of "Bureau No. 1" in Karlshorst, the Soviet military headquarters in East Berlin.

After Stalin's death there was a lull in Bureau No. 1's operations. There was criticism within the MVD that its operations, in spotting, recruiting, dispatching and communicating with agents, were wasteful duplications of other Soviet intelligence operations.

IN SEPTEMBER 1953 Sudoplatov was arrested and disappeared. "Bureau No. 1" was reorganized as the "Ninth Section." Its mission: to carry out "special action tasks" for the "Second Chief Directorate."

Offices of the Ninth Section are located in Moscow's notorious Lubyanka prison. Training is conducted at an operational base at the corner of Metrostroyevskaya and Turchanovskaya Pere Ulok, in Moscow.

Here there is a staff of instructors in small arms, jujitsu, code wireless, driving, surveillance and photography. Special weapons and explosive devices are produced by a laboratory near Kuchino, on the outskirts of Moscow. Nearby is a second laboratory which develops poisons and drugs for use in "special action tasks."

The head of the "Second Department," which supervises the "Ninth Section" is, or was as late as 1954, a man well known to official Washington—Maj. Gen. Alexander S. Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador to the United States from October 1947 until June 1952.

Evidence available indicates Panyushkin's diplomatic activity was merely a cloak for his professional secret police career.

Tito on Tightrope

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

In the old vaudeville days, shows opened with a juggling act, a few fox terriers, or acrobats on a tight-rope. Nowadays Marshal Tito is the nearest tightrope walker in Europe.

The boss of Communist Yugoslavia skips along nimbly, and so far successfully, on a thin line between the West and Russia, doing business with both sides. This is sometimes called playing both ends against the middle.

Tito himself in a speech last month called it "cooperation and normalization of relations."

Yugoslavia fitted neatly into the East European Communist bloc until 1948, when Stalin made the mistake of ordering Tito around too much. He broke with the old dictator.

HIS RED NEIGHBORS cast him into a Communist limbo and for at least five years filled the airwaves over Eastern Europe with a campaign of vilification, including the use of the word "hangman."

All this was delightful news to the West. This was the first time a satellite had cut loose from Russia. No one could tell, if Yugoslavia was handled right, whether more satellites might follow.

Since Tito's break with Stalin, the United States has given Yugoslavia about 500 million dollars in military aid and perhaps the same amount in economic help, in grants not loans.

After Stalin's death in 1953 the new rulers of Russia, seeing the damage their old boss had done to the onetime so-called Communist front in Europe, began to make goo-goo eyes at Tito to woo him back. He wasn't wooed easily.

HE HAD IT PRETTY good in his relations with the West and the help he got from that direction. This year the Russians—Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Khrushchev—made an humble pilgrimage to Yugoslavia.

This worried the West no end, particularly when Tito and the Russians seemed to have patched up their old quarrel. It was at this point Tito climbed up on the tight-rope.

If he could deal with both the West and Russia and the satellites he would have it twice as good as in the past, when he had been able to deal with only one side at a time. There was a future in playing hard to get.

Huber-Warco Grader To Be Part of Exhibit

Huber-Warco Co. today announced its giant new 5D-190 motor grader—the world's first grader to offer 195 horsepower—will be displayed at the General Motors "Powerama" to be held at Soldier Field in Chicago Aug. 31-Sept. 25.

The Huber-Warco 5D-190 was designed to handle heavy-duty grading jobs in construction, mining, coal and logging. It is powered by a GM 6-71 diesel engine through an Allison torque converter and a full power shift Allison torque converter. Allison is a division of General Motors.

Weighing about 16 tons, the Huber-Warco grader travels up to 20 miles an hour. It features hydraulic booster steering and completely cab-controlled blade movement. This means that the grader operator can shift the blade from a vertical position on one side to a vertical position on the other in less than a minute without leaving the cab.

GM's Powerama will portray the importance of diesel and gas turbine power to the national economy. The event will include stage shows and displays and working exhibits including a U.S. submarine, various marine craft, a saw mill, cotton gin, oil drilling rig, Army tanks, diesel locomotive and a completely new high speed train, airplanes, "dream cars" and huge earth moving equipment.

Waldo Church Pastor Honored By Congregation in 35th Year

What was to be another annual church outing turned into a double surprise for a 69-year-old Waldo minister Sunday at the Lutheran Memorial Camp, south of Fulton in Morrow County.

When Rev. S. C. Long, minister of the St. Paul Lutheran Church at Waldo, arrived at the camp grounds Sunday morning, he was surprised to find his eldest son, Col. Paul Long, there. Col. Long had flown to Columbus from the Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., where he is stationed.

Later Rev. Long discovered the members of his congregation had planned the day in honor of his 35th anniversary as pastor of the Waldo church.

Dinner Follows Service

Following church services in the open amphitheater, the group had a basket dinner in the camp dining hall. A three-tiered anniversary cake was served for dessert.

For his 35 years of service the church members gave Rev. Long a 21-inch television set. The set was waiting for him when he returned home from the camp.

After the dinner, a short program arranged by Wilbur Rengert, church treasurer, was given in recognition of Rev. Long. During the program, three ministers of the Marion local Lutheran Conference spoke briefly in tribute of the Rev. Long.

Of Rev. Long, Rev. W. F. Bittkofer, the Fulton camp manager, said, "There is nothing flowery Present for the dinner were all the members of the Long family. Besides Col. Long, the other three Long children are Ted of Mount Gilead; Ruth, teacher in the Columbus school system, and Hazel, who teaches at Gambier, O.

Recalling the year, 1920, when he began his Waldo ministry, Rev. Long said: "We had about 88 members on the church list then. The membership began to grow until we had around 200 at the beginning of World War II. But the war took the young men from the community and when they returned, they settled away from Waldo. We have about 165 on our church list now."

As a side-line from his ministerial duties Rev. Long operated the Waldo Baby Chick Co. for 33 years.

Oregon Enlisting Geese In Battles With Weeds
SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Oregon's forestry department, which has used helicopters to sow tree seeds, bloodhounds to track incendiaries and radio-active beetles to combat the bark beetle epidemic, has turned to geese to ride herd on weeds at the state's forestry nursery.

The nursery superintendent, Vern McDaniel, said the geese will do the job and save the state money — provided the fowl will play fair and eat the weeds and not the forestry seeds.

Insurance Policies On Tiles Advised

CHICAGO (UP)—Property owners can protect their investments with title insurance, according to N. G. P. Krausz, assistant professor of agricultural law at the University of Illinois.

Title to real estate is never perfect, Krausz said, it can only be good or "merchantable."

This is because land acquires new owners, mortgagees, tenants, trustees, heirs and other parties who have various legal interests, he explained.

Even if all links in the chain of title are available in courthouse records, Krausz said, there is still a slight possibility of imperfection in the title.

Title insurance does not improve title. But it does protect the owner from financial loss if another party should establish a valid claim against the land.

Property owners often get a single premium policy that remains in effect until title to the property is transferred to another, Krausz added.

More than 43 per cent of the 1954 graduating class in South Dakota high schools attended college in 1954.

CWA Conducts Vote on Strike At Ohio Bell Co.

CLEVELAND (UP)—The CIO Communications Workers of America today were conducting a strike vote among their 16,000 members employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Announcement of the strike vote followed a negotiation session yesterday in which the union turned down a company wage offer.

Thomas Mitchell, the union's Ohio director, termed the offer "far below" settlements reached in other major industries.

He said the union's present contract with the company will expire at midnight Sept. 2 under a 60-day notice handed the company for modifying the contract.

An Ohio Bell spokesman said the current one-year contract, which had a term that ended Aug. 21, automatically extended itself until either party served 60 days' notice of termination. The spokesman said the company received no such notice from the union.

Company sources disclosed the offer provided weekly wage boosts of $1.05 to $4 in base rates.

Clarence A. Pearce, Ohio Bell vice president and its chief negotiator, called the offer "substantial" and said it would cost the company more than $3,100,000.

Pump Is Stolen Piece By Piece in Lunch Pail

ROUYN, Que. (UP)—Police today accused Marc Gratton, a 31-year-old welder, with taking a heavy underground pump home from the Quenont gold mine here—piece by piece in his lunch pail over a three-year period. Reporting they found the pump reassembled in the basement of Gratton's home, they charged the welder with theft. Officers said he apparently intended to sell the machinery.

City Youths Enjoy 4-H Club Activities

MILWAUKEE (UP)—This may come as a surprise, but the 4-H Club is flourishing in some so-called urban areas.

According to E. C. Parminter, 4-H Club agent, 793 boys and girls in Milwaukee County have signed up for 1955, making the enrollment the highest in 17 years.

The girls in 4-H work, who outnumber the boys, 489 to 304, choose projects such as clothing, foods and nutrition toward which to direct their interests.

The boys seem to find gardening their most popular project, followed by wood-working, electricity, poultry, rabbits and home improvements.

The city of Milwaukee and other parts of the county boast a total of 27 4-H clubs. Members of the club are between the ages of 10 and 21.

Cow's Social Standing

Important, Expert Says

MOSCOW, Idaho (UP)—Social standing is mighty important to a cow, says G. C. Anderson, dairy specialist at the University of Idaho.

He says recent studies indicate a newcomer which threatens the position of the rest of the cows in a herd is the most frequent cause of psychological upset that can cause milk and butterfat production to drop as much as 5 per cent.

The intrusion creates excitement marked by butting, kicking and threatening until the new animal is accepted and a new social order is established.

Policy Holder Confused

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies, which since January have been telling policy holders they will change their name to Nationwide Insurance on Sept. 1, got a jolt today.

The companies said a notice of cancellation, effective Sept. 1, was received from a policy holder. On that day, the policy holder said, he was taking out a policy with a new company—Nationwide Insurance.

British Officer Finds Pleasure In Sailplaning

Updrafts Push Plane
To Heights of 37,000
Feet, Keep It Going

WASHINGTON (UP) — Commander H. C. N. Goodhart, a Royal Navy officer with the British Joint Services Mission here, is an expert sailplane pilot. Goodhart called sailplane flying, or soaring, "an indescribable pleasure."
"Two months ago I went up to 37,000 feet over the Sierra Nevada in California. It was absolutely delightful. The scenery was superb, the silence complete," he said.
Staying aloft in soaring is a matter of finding a thermal, or updraft of air, and circling upward in it until the current is no longer strong enough to sustain the craft. The pilot then glides to another thermal in order to stay up. The best updrafts are found under newly formed cumulus clouds. Taking off is usually accomplished by getting a tow from a conventional airplane or a truck.

Going Up Is Best

"The most exciting part of soaring is circling your way up in a thermal," Goodhart said. "When you enter you feel a slight turbulence, a bubbling sensation. The thing is alive. It effervesces. The plane gives an upward heave and you bank sharply until you find the center."
"That's where the art and skill come in—knowing how to keep in the center of the updraft and how fast to climb without stalling."

The typical sailplane is 18 feet long with a 45-foot wing span. It is generally made of wood or aluminum and weighs about 350 pounds. Cost is about $3,500.

Goodhart's most recent triumph in the sport was at the 22nd annual soaring championships, held at Elmira, N. Y., July 2-14. He outpointed 28 competitors to win the event but was declared ineligible because he is not a U. S. citizen. Longest flight in the contest was from Elmira to Wilmington, Del., a distance of almost 200 miles.

New Requests For Flood Aid Issued in City

Another appeal for contributions to a national emergency fund being collected by the American Red Cross for relief in the disaster-stricken Eastern states was received this morning by Louis B. Conkie, chairman of the local chapter.

The telegram from the national office informed the local chapter that approximately 10,000 families are being cared for by the Red Cross, and that the estimated five million dollars needed for relief would rise to an estimated eight million dollars.

Of the $2,500 goal established by the local chapter for its share of these funds, $613 has been collected in two days, Lowell Douce, disaster chairman, reported.

A booth for contributors is being maintained through today at the Marion County Fair, and volunteer workers will be stationed in front of the Marion County Bank again today.

All city and county banks will accept contributions for the local fund, Douce said.

Attorneys Meet

F. Riley Hall, local attorney, was the main speaker when the Marion County Bar Association met at Hotel Harding Wednesday. He spoke on "Ademption," a situation in which property mentioned in a will is destroyed or disposed of before death.

The members will hold their annual stag picnic at the Marion Fish and Game Club on Route 4 next Tuesday evening.

Cheese which has become too dry for most uses can be grated and used to add flavor and food value to spaghetti, macaroni or soups.

Pair of County Youths To Face Larceny Charges

Two teenage Marion County youths are being held by city police today on charges of attempted petty larceny and reckless operation.

A car in which the youths, 16 and 17, were riding was observed by a city patrolman going through a stop light at Columbia and S.

State Sts. with its lights out at 45 miles per hour today at 4 a.m. When the car was stopped at a parking lot on S. State St., the policeman discovered hose in the back seat of the car smelling of gasoline. Questioned at the police station, they admitted several attempts to steal gasoline from cars.

Columbia University and the University of California each has more than 1,200 foreign students.
